The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Sorry, we do not have space in individual editions of this paper for all of the important news happenings developing in all of the communities served by Paddock Publications. This week's column will be a resume of those events. Full stories will appear in the respective editions.

This week's column tells our readers important events in neighboring communities.

Palatine is not making any off-the-cuff decision on the annexation to the Metropolitan Sanitary District. A notice was mailed this week to the heads of various local civic groups announcing a final discussion on the subject that will take place at the village hall next Monday. An analysis made by the engineers, the village fiscal agent and the citizen's committee will be presented.

Last weeks Editor's Column suggested that the villages be certain they are right before passing on a sanitary district recomendation to the voters. Palatine is doing just that.

Arlington Heights officialdom will recommend the defeat of annexation to the Metropolitan Sanitary District, based on the added tax cost.

Its defeat will be bad news for the subdividers of small lot areas. They will have to finance their own sewage treatment plants in areas where septic tanks are not feasible.

Every reader of this paper will know where to register October 9 and where to vote at the November 6 election. A full page in this issue gives the precinct boundaries and polling places.

The list of polling places was made available for publication in Paddock Publications by Edward Barrett, county clerk.

It will not be necessary to visit the polling place before catching that early morning train because they will remain open until 9 p. m. They open at 8 a. m.

We rather enjoyed being in big company last night when the American Legion, Department of Illinois, Athletic Commission, in a special ceremony in Chicago city hall, officially recognized Paddock Publications for doing a good job in Little League publicity. Two Chicago daily newspapers were also honored.

That publicity used up a lot of newsprint, but we agree with our sports department that it was worthwhile.

Local municipalities have reason to be jubilant over the recent decision of the Illinois Supreme Court that upheld the right of villages to control street improvements in subdivisions within 1½ miles of the municipality.

No longer can the subdividers ignore the adjoining municipality restrictions — providing, of course, that the municipality has a master plan. We hope the Arlington Heights master plan, which has been in the making for 5 years, will qualify.

The decision of the Supreme Court may be the entering wedge that will legalize the requirement of payments in land, buildings or cash for school purposes by subdividers.

At least the municipality can force street improvements upon subdividers. Such action will require the erection of higher priced homes, which, in turn, means higher valuations for school taxes.

The statement was made at Elk Grove school mass meeting last week that government loaning agencies are withdrawing financing from home developments in the vicinity of airports.

Proponents of the proposed O'Hare City suddenly discovered last week that not only are Chicago people moving to the suburbs, but that the city is doing the same thing.

On the eve of the election for the incorporation of the new municipality their attorneys discovered that when Chicago annexed O'Hare airport last spring, it also took a 300 acre slice out of Elk Grove township.

That residential property, adjoining a business district, is increasing in value to a rather alarming extent came to our attention this week when values of over $200 a front foot was quoted on Palatine property a block distant from the business area. The same thing is happening in Mt. Prospect.

Postal inspectors who pass on postoffice site values, say "it ain't so." They should be sent around interviewing some of the owners.

We are happy over the wonderful weather we are having, but we wish some one in authority would tell us if the recent frost we experienced gives these days the Indian Summer label.

When members of a local village board turned down an invitation extended to them and their wives to a good dinner, we knew that here is one village which would never have a Hodge scandal.

"I do not think it would look right," said the mayor, "but I have the highest respect for the firm sending the invitation."

The total tab of all their customary dinners to officialdom of this area would make a sizeable hospital contribution.

WHEN MRS. M. EDWARD SMITH, third vice-president, left, and Sarah Lee Davis, executive director, of the Northwest Girl Scout council, carried word of their fund drive to editor Stuart R. Paddock, he asked the privilege of being the first contributor to the fund in Districts 4 and 5. They gladly accepted his check, saying they will be equally pleased to receive similar treatment from others. —Staff photo

Urge Broad Powers For Village Manager

Girl Scouts To Seek $13,410

Fund drive chairmen for district 4 and 5 have been named and have completed their organization for the annual fund drive to be held from October 15-20.

The number of registered girl scouts in northwest Cook county has increased in the past 3 years from 3,600 to 7,131!

Good planning has kept the "Scout Dollar" at its maximum working efficiency and a very small percentage of increase is asked of donors in order that the experience of scouting may be given to many girls.

District 4 is comprised of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Wheeling, while district 5 includes Palatine and Rolling Meadows. Quotas are: Arlington Heights, $5,650; Mount Prospect, $2,560; Wheeling, $780; Prospect Heights, $960; Palatine, $2,460, and Rolling Meadows, $1,000.

This is the district's share of the total budget needed by the girl scout council of northwest Cook county to sustain a good program for all girl scouts in this area for the coming year.

THE CHAIRMEN have been given basic facts as to how the money collected is to be used. Camping, one of the most important phases of girl scouting, takes a major portion of each dollar contributed, while programming, troop organization, professional staff and office expenses and general administration all take their share. Another large part of the money collected is used to train adults who wish to become leaders or to serve the girl scout movement in some other capacity, on a district, neighborhood, or troop level.

Mrs. O. B. MacDonald, Prospect Heights chairman of district 4 and Abiathar White, Rolling Meadows, general chairman of the drive, both stressed very strongly the fact that all money collected will be used to benefit the girls in the local area.

The chairmen and the areas they have organized are: G. E. Dunlap, Northwest Arlington Heights; Francis Stites, Northwest Arlington Heights; Eugene Ballou, South Arlington Heights; Edwin Johnson, Mount Prospect; Frank McCabe, South Mount Prospect; Richard Revness, Prospect Heights; William Ferris, Palatine and George Kitterman, Rolling Meadows.

Hospital To Benefit By Saturday Show

Stage and screen celebrities will join with the Palatine Players in a performance at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago Saturday afternoon to benefit the Northwest Community Hospital fund.

Guests who will appear with the well-known dramatic troupe include Ronald Reagan, star of movies and television; Tony Weitzel, columnist of the Chicago Daily News, Jerry Newby and Ann Wakefield, now appearing on the Chicago stage in "The Boy Friend," and Dan Belloc and his orchestra.

The curtain will rise on the Players' performance of "Night Must Fall" at 2:30 p.m. The program will start at 1 p.m. Eatrday in the hotel's Michigan room to music by Dan Belloc and his orchestra.

PLANS CALL for Reagan to speak before the Players present their mystery drama.

During the afternoon the 2 members of the cast of "The Boy Friend" will give their show-stopping act from the play, now at the Blackstone theater.

Other entertainment figures who have offered their services for the benefit include Audrey Morris, female singer at a Rushst. night spot, Stanley Lebausky, composer of the current popular song hit entitled "The Wayward Wind," and Dove Carter, organist at Brandt's restaurant in Palatine.

TICKETS ARE available at the ticket office at the hotel and will be sold at the door before the show. Reservations or tickets may be procured locally at Paddock Publications in Arlington Heights and at the Palatine Chamber of Commerce. In Chicago tickets are being distributed by Don Heyden, WAbash 2-5611, Ext. 283, and Walter Kirby, LaSalle Camera shop, 133 W. Jackson, HA. 7-0507.

Launderette Entered, No Loss Reported

Arlington Heights police spent their last few days busily chasing chickens, vandals and burglars, police records indicated.

The chickens, it seems, were mischievously devouring lawn seed at the new Westgate home of Mrs. Lorraine Nendel, 9 S. Yale, and she wondered if police couldn't do something about it.

An attempted burglary was reported Friday morning by an employee of the Wala Washerette, 882 W. Northwest hwy. She told police someone broke a washrooom window Thursday, entered the building and rifled a cash drawer. No loss was reported.

William Kliner of Charles H. Wilson, Inc., said that vandals with a rifle took pot shots at a new home at 1104 W. Euclid last week, damaging walls and shattering windows. A large plate glass window was also broken Saturday at a highway ice cream stand.

DONALD GROS, 10, of 1024 W. Wilke rd., rode his bicycle into an automobile in front of 1604 W. Northwest hwy. late Wednesday and received bruises. Driver of the car, stopped at the entrance to a service station, was Eleanor Frakes, 31, of Palatine.

Firemen prevented a serious blaze at Howard Rotavator, 1600 E. Davis, Friday by quickly putting out flames that jumped from a burning trash pile to a heap of empty crates.

Teens Await Homecoming Parade, Dance

Homecoming plans fill the air at Arlington high school this week.

Students were busy building floats yesterday and today in preparation for Friday's parade. A king and queen were elected and coach "Buz" Ormsbee's football team was preparing for Maine, Friday night's opponents.

Twenty-nine floats will participate in the 2 p.m. parade. The route of the parade will be the same as last year traveling east on Euclid to Vail, south on Vail to Sigwalt, east on Sigwalt to Evergreen to Wing, east on Wing to State, north on State to Euclid, and west on Euclid to the high school.

CONTRARY to practice of some previous years, school will be in session on Friday. In other years the teachers' meeting has come on the homecoming date. However, school will be dismissed at 1:30 in order that the students may see the parade.

Coronation of the king and queen will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:45 in the Arlington gym. Five girls nominated for queen are Nancy Wilkinson, Judy Johnston, Stephanie Empke, Jane Holloway, and Judy Peterson. Boys vieing for the throne are Ed Rabe, Chuck Peterson, Bill Palmer, Don Plank, and Dan Vittum. The king, queen, and court will reign over the festivities which will be climaxed by a dance Saturday night from 8:30 to 11:30 in the boys' gym. Senior student Dean Skadberg is homecoming chairman.

C Of C Starts Drive For New Members

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce started an intensive drive for members this week with the mailing of the first of several promotional cards to prospects within the community, according to President Everett H. Lindgren.

Theme of the campaign will be "We'll Get More Done If We Get Together." Copy on the first card will point out that, "It takes concerted action to get things done in these modern times. It takes cooperation and mutual assistance . . .and that's where your Chamber of Commerce comes in."

The card is one of a series that will go to prospects. Others in the series will touch on the various functions of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fete Parade To Feature Queen, Stars

Arlington Heights will be the starting point of a mile-long parade Saturday, Oct. 13.

The parade will climax a 3-day fete celebrating the grand opening of 9 additional stores at the Prospect Heights shopping center.

Radio and TV stars, public officials, military and civic groups will march, starting at Arlington high school at 10 a.m.

Featured in the parade will be "Miss Northwest Suburbs," yet-to-be-announced queen of the fesival. She will be chosen next week from photographs submitted by area beauties.

Prospect Heights merchants will feature bargain buys October 11, 12 and 13. A square dance contest, called by Bing Bengson, of Mt. Prospect, will open the celebration at 8 p.m. October 11 on the Prospect Heights shopping center streets.

Need Volunteers For New Ground Observer Post

The first call went out this week for volunteers to man a ground observer post in Arlington Heights.

Volunteers for "Operation Skywatch" will serve a 2-hour stint weekly. Minimum age for volunteers is 18. The post will probably not be in operation for several months but persons wishing to sign up now may call post supervisor Charles Opela at CLearbrook 3-5255.

For several months the air force has been seeking a post in the Arlington Heights-Palatine area. Sgt. Henry Lytle, airman directing the search, said this week that negotiations are in process to locate a post on the grounds of Arlington high school.

"The air force has received the full cooperation of the high school board of education," noted Sgt. Lytle.

OPELA, recently appointed to head the post, has contacted officials of the Chicago North Western railway in the hope of securing a railway crossing gate tower for use as an observer post. The railway plans to raze several small towers in Arlington Heights. A new, larger tower to replace them was recently completed.

Opela, who resides at 1520 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, said that 2 observers will staff the observation post in the round-the-clock operation.

Volunteers Of America To Distribute Tags

Volunteers of America will hold its annual tag day in Arlington Heights Saturday.

Mrs. W. G. Fleischhauer, local chairman of the event, has requested youngsters who wish to assist in the distribution of tags to meet at the rear of the Arlington Heights fieldhouse at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Industry Likes Area But Can't Find Workers

A recent editorial comment in Paddock Publications stated that industries wishing to locate in the norhwest suburb, particularly near Arlington Heights, are being driven away because of the lack of a local labor force.

Charles H. Wilson, a local real estate operator, this week passed on the following letter from Fantus Factory Locating Service. The letter apparently bears out the editorial remark:

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Thank you for the time, effort and energy spent with me on my visit to Arlington Heights.

We like Arlington Heights very much. From a physically attractive standpoint, it is an ideal place for clean light industry. However, all of your local employers are literally screaming about a shortage of available labor.

My guess is that, at least for a while, Arlington Heights is suitable only for smaller firms which already have a nucleus of a work force. We couldn't honestly recommend it for a mass-production industry employing hundreds of workers. While Rolling Meadows and Dunhurst are a start toward alleviating the shortage, it appears as if more firms want to move into the area than it is capable of handling.

I certainly hope this situation changes. We have many clients who would enjoy locating in your attractive community.

Sincerely,
R. M. Reifler

Voters Group Tells Results Of Study

A civic-minded force of 50 women will be peering over the shoulders of the Arlington Heights village board as it converts village government to the village manager plan, 1957 model.

A delegation from the group, the Arlington Heights chapter of the League of Women Voters, attended the board session Tuesday night. There they answered questions of trustees concerning a League study of the entire village manager situation. Hugo Thal, village attorney, is drafting a manager ordinance for presentation at the October 16th meeting.

The League began its study with the formation of a committee early in July. A copy of their report and recommendations was mailed to village officials late last week.

THE REPORT was intended as a guide for trustees as they enact an implementing ordinance changing the village's form of government. For several years Arlington has had a manager by local ordinance. By a 2 to 1 vote last November, villagers approved a change to a manager plan in conformity with appropriate state statutes.

A board-appointed lawyers' committee also labored on a draft of a new ordinance from February to September. A member of this group consulted with the League committee, said League president Mrs. Fredric Marks. The village board Tuesday indicated it will have further talks with the group of 9 lawyers.

In summary, the League recommends:

—The manager be given the broadest administrative powers.

—Minimum requirements for a manager be specified.

—Spelling out the scope and duties of each village department.

—Consideration be given to integration of departments.

—Setting up a definite period before an elected official is eligible for appointment as manager.

IN THE MAIN the League's recommendations closely resemble those of the lawyers. The principal addition is the final recommendation urging a period of time after an elected official leaves office before he becomes eligible for the manager's job.

In making its study, League members interviewed a member of the International City Manager association, Kenneth M. Henderson, president of the village of Winnetka, attorney Leonard Bosgraf, who helped draft the Illinois manager statute, Professor S. A. Hartzé of Lake Forest college, Tom Hildebrand, a member of the committee that selected the Arlington Heights manager, C. Harold Easch, village manager of Brookfield, and Mrs. Raymond S. Simons, an attorney and member of a citizens' group for village manager of Highland Park.

AMONG THE ideas suggested by these experts but not included in the League recommendations were provision for the manager to report to the people via newspaper or other mass media, granting of a public hearing within 30 days following a manager's removal from office and authorizing the manager to act as agent for the local liquor control commissioner.

League members who made the study, first since the local group received its charter in February, were: Mrs. Stephen Jurco, chairman; Mrs. Edward Carlisle, Mrs. John Hoover, Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Phillips, Miss Marianne Pope and Mrs. Bernard Robinson.

Stengel To Appear At Palatine Democratic Rally

Richard Stengel, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, will be the featured speaker at 8 p.m. Saturday in Paddock school, Palatine, Roy L. LaLonde, chairman of the Palatine Committee for Stengel and Dilks, sponsors of the rally, announced today.

Tax Assessor Oliver C. Dilks of Palatine township, candidate for state senator, will speak along with Harry W. Dieringer of Barrington township, who is seeking election to the county superior court.

Noble J. Puffer of Palatine, county schools superintendent, also will address the rally which is open to the general public. They will have an opportunity to question the candidates.

Stengel, a Rock Island attorney, is opposing Everett Dirksen for the Illinois senate seat.

Crew Sprucing Up Village Elm Trees

Thousands of elm trees in Arlington Heights will get a dose of preventive medicine under a tree sanitation program begun last week.

F. R. Buechner, village manager, said that a 4-men crew is at work cutting away dead wood and ailing branches. The program was initiated to combat the spread of Dutch elm disease, first detected in the village late in July.

The European bark beetle, carrier of Dutch elm disease, breeds in dead elm wood. Thus tree sanitation is equally important to tree spraying in any control program, according to experts.

IN JULY and August 4 confirmed cases of the tree-killing blight and 2 probabe cases were located. All trees were cut and burned.

Contractor on the sanitation program is the Evanston firm of Nels J. Johnson. His crew began work on S. Walnut st. early last week. The entire project will require several years to complete, Buechner estimated.

The manager said that the older section of the village, where larger trees stand, will be covered initially. Bounds of the section are Douglas, Ridge, Oakton and South sts. Crews will work from south to north.

UNDER THE PRESENT plan the village will work only on non-arterial streets. Buechner said that the village will apply for state motor fuel tax funds in January to cover work on arterial streets. Funds are available for such work, he added.

There are no plans for spraying the village's 8,000 elms immediately, continued the manager, although spray equipment has arrived.

Buechner explained that a double-strength dormant spray, to be applied when trees are bare, would give more effective protection.

Revenue Amendment Topic At Panel

The proposed revenue amendment to the Illinois constitution will be the subject of a panel discussion at the Arlington Heights fieldhouse Thursday, Oct. 11 at 8 p.m.

The forum, open to the public, is sponsored by the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters. Speakers will be League members, Mrs. Paul Green, Mrs. Richard Booshart, Mrs. Charles Rezner and Mrs. Edward Reinfrank.

THE BIG NEWS this week at Paddock Publications was the arrival of first units of the 32-page rotary press designed to "solve all the problems" of publishing the extra large editions to more and more homes so evident the past 2 years. Present 16-page rotary purchased 6 years ago in the days of 28-page papers was supposed provided the answers of 1950. Present day growth of the area, however, included 10,000 increase in circulation since 1952, made necessary this terrific quarter million dollar venture on the part of the publishers. The new press is expected to be operating by the end of November, with color possible in the near future. —Staff photo

Surprise Shower

September 19 Mrs. Joseph Morici gave a surprise personal shower for her sister, Joan McLoon, who is engaged to be married. Joan has been living with the Moricis since she left her home in St. John, N. B., Canada. In fact, it is quite a coincidence that Joan left here for Boston, where she will be working until she marries, one year to the day that she left St. John. Included in the gifts at her shower were one from her aunt in Boston, her mother in St. John, and another aunt in Bathurst, N. B. Those present at the shower were Mrs. Morici Sr., Mrs. Dorothy Rhodes, Mrs. Barbara Hughes of Evanston, Mrs. Ann Christensen, Mrs. Dorothy Friker, Mrs. Edith Terry, Mrs. Rose Schame, and Mrs. Dolores Klippert.

Last Thursday night Mrs. Clarence Schuette entertained her pinochle club at its first meeting since the summer. Eight of her neighbors came for their "mother's night out" which comes once a month, and which they all look forward to very much. Irene Schmidt won the first prize.

Attend Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schoen attended the 25th wedding anniversary celebration of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krekel in Burlington, Iowa, the weekend of September 22. Mrs. Krekel's sisters from Chicago were there and many relatives from Iowa, which made quite a family reunion for everyone.

The B. F. Battaglias have his mother, Mrs. Frank Battaglia, and aunt, Miss Helen McCabe, visiting them from Meadeville, Penn. Mr. Battaglia brought them back with him when he went east on business and they plan to stay indefinitely.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Balfour are entertaining her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Modine of North Hollywood, Cal. The Modines are busy visiting his relatives around here before he flies back to California. Mrs. Modine is planning to stay with her sister for a couple of months.

Friday night Mrs. Roy Martin invited several of her neighbors to a coffee at which Christmas cards were sold for the benefit of the addition to St. James school.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jennings were glad to have his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Severson of Bellingham, Wash. visit them. The Seversons had been visiting their daughter in Virginia and stopped to see the Jennings on their way back home.

Farewell Party

There was a nice farewell party for the Jack Schulers a week ago Saturday. Six families and their children were included, the Phillips, the Millers, the Farrs, the Smeltzers, the Bartons and the guests of honor. Chili and hot dogs were on the bill of fare, which they enjoyed in the Farr's basement. Their friends and neighbors are going to miss the Schulers, who are moving to 205 N. Dryden.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. John Miller gave a cocktail party for her mother, Mrs. R. C. Swink, and invited 20 of their friends for her to meet. Mrs. Swink has been visiting them for a month and left Monday for her home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly and their friends, Jane and Bob Rickett of Evanston, spent 6 wonderful days in the Smokies recently. They stayed in Gatlinburg, where they rested and did some sightseeing, which is a real treat this time of year when the Smokies are at their prettiest.

The John Robinsons went to the exciting Northwestern-Iowa State game Saturday at Dyche stadium, Evanston. The weather was perfect, and so was the game, 14-13, in favor of Northwestern.

James Robert Burger is 3 weeks old now and is the new son born to the David Burgers. The family has fallen in love with him, including his sister, Linnea, and brother, David.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koeneman took their family to the Spot-to-Shop annual outing at the Hillcrest country club Sunday. Mr. Koeneman is the general manager of Spot-to-Shop. It was a family style picnic and a lucky one for the Koenemans too. Two of them went home with prizes. Mrs. Koeneman won a magazine rack and Karen a case of soda.

Uniforms Ready For Women In Civil Defense

A 4-piece uniform consisting of a suit, coveralls, slack outfit and coat-dress, all in a soft shade of gray-blue, is now available to women working in the Arlington Heights civil defense organization.

Gen. Robert M. Woodward, Illinois civil defense director, announced this week that uniforms can be purchased directly from the manufacturer at moderate cost. Order forms can be obtained from the local director.

ALTHOUGH NOT required, the uniforms "will lend distinct identity to the whole civil defense program," said Gen. Woodward.

Each garment will have a small red, white and blue insignia to be worn on the upper left sleeve. The coverall is said to be extremely suitable for light-duty rescue work or other civil defense field activities.

There is a smartly designed hat which may be worn with all garments. (AF

This Week with PTA

Membership Drive

"Preparation of our children for responsible citizenship begins with responsible citizens as parents," said Mrs. John Lindstrom, membership chairman, as the annual drive reached its peak. "Membership and participation in PTA activity is a basic step in that direction," she continued.

The drive ends tomorrow. All parents are urged to join, whether their children are school age or not, for the school program is important always. Enrollment can be accomplished by sending name, address and 50 cents to Mrs. John Lindstrom, 824 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights.

Cash awards will be made to class rooms achieving 95 per cent membership with a grand award to those rooms that attain 100 per cent. Parents must join this week, however, in order to help a class win a prize.

This year for the first time, members will receive the PTA yearbook in calendar form. All meeting dates and programs scheduled are marked, as well as the PTA special events. Space is also provided for marking other appointments and family dates. A complete list of board members, school committee chairmen and room mothers is printed on the calendar. Design and production of the new PTA Calendar-Yearbook has been the responsibility of Mrs. Jack Hosford, first vice president.

Getting To Know You — At Junior High

Two hundred and fifty parents and teachers of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students attended the Junior high PTA meeting Tuesday, Sept. 25, and were given a glimpse of things to come during the school year ahead. Mrs. Kenneth Hood, school chairman introduced the school representatives and Donald Grote, principal, presented his staff of teachers to the parents.

Mr. Grote outlined an innovation in the eighth grade curriculm by which students would have an elective opportunity for the final 13 weeks of the school year. For the first time, eighth graders may study an advanced science or begin language study through a course described as an introduction to foreign language. The latter course is under the direction of Mrs. Kay Loubet, just returned from a period of advanced study in Paris. Advanced science studies are guided by Albert Wangles.

The need for establishing and keeping a close relationship between child and parents was also discussed by Mr. Grote. He stressed the importance of sincere parental interest in the child's daily activities and recognition of the child as an individual with "ups and downs" just like an adult.

The Blue Ballot

For the first time in PTA history the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers has joined with other civic groups in a positive stand in favor of a specific legislative proposal. When they go to the polls November 6 Illinois voters will receive a separate blue ballot on which to vote a state constitutional amendment - this time the revenue article which deals with taxation is up for revision.

This article is basically the same as it was when originally written in the 1870's - it represented the best compromise of practical requirements and expedient politics to the economic status of the tax paying citizens - all vintage 1870. As a result the law abiding tax payer might now be required to pay an annual personal property tax of 3 or 4 per cent on a savings account at the bank which earns only 2 per cent.

Taxes continues to be a very tender spot in the American body politic: there is a tendency not to disturb the laws under which we are taxed for fear thy will get worse. In 1773 the Boston Tea Party drew attention to an unjust tax - it was the only avenue of protest available to those patriots. A vote "yes" on the blue ballot does more than just protest. It is a vote for realistic taxation on a basis practical and equitable in our present economic structure.

That is why the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers endorses revision of the revenue article. Bundle days- October 11-12 10x ital Parents are asked to remember that discarded clothing, blankets and sheets are needed by the Save the Children Federation. Mrs. Herbert A. Cornelius, welfare chairman, announced that her committee of school representatives will need additional help to receive and pack the contribution for bundle days. Any mother willing to assist in this project can so indicate on the ways and means availablity form included in the membership letter or by contacting the welfare representative of each school: Mrs. Robert McFadin at Dryden school; Mrs. Thomas Colley at north school; Mrs. Robert Abbott at Ridge school; Mrs. Richard Rosholt at South school; Mrs. Fred Jasper at the Junior high school.

Leak Develops In Village Building Boom

Arlington Heights' building boom in housing developed a bad leak in September. The housing slump which hit other sections of the country earlier this year finally reached the village last month.

Building Commissioner, reporting that only 18 new homes permits were issued, said that the dip is probably only temporary. This is borne out by the filing of 20 residence permit applications in his office during the first week of October.

VALUATION of the 18 permits totaled $346,000, with an additional 14 garage and 17 alteration permits raising the month's valuations to $400,643. The figure was the smallest of the year.

Last September there were 59 single family home permits sold.

Sheriff's Police Now Use Uniform Traffic Ticket

Cook County Sheriff Lohman's Highway Police have begun using the uniform traffic ticket, claiming it is best suited to produce highway safety and the best source of information as to the violation.

Capt. Robert E. Hesse, head of the Traffic Safely bureau of the Sheriff's Police, commented, "The new ticket fills a long felt need for a good, sound program of traffic enforcement.

"IN THE past there has been too wide a divergence in the form of traffic tickets used by police departments in the state. Many didn't fill the legal requirements for being a complaint signe dby the arresting officer, in addition to being a summons.

"Now the person arrested knows he has been given a valid traffic complaint against him. The ticket also gives an adequate description of the conditions at the time of the violation."

The uniform ticket, which the Sheriff's Police have been using since Jan. 1, 1956, is being adopted by many suburban police departments. It has been hailed as an effective traffic safety tool because it is conducive to a just treatment of traffic law violators.

Series Of Book Reviews Offered At High School

MRS. MEISSNER

An evening course on the "World of Books" will begin Monday, at 8 p.m. in the new library of Arlington high school.

Purdie Nelson Meissner, well known dramatic reviewer and book critic for the Chicago Tribune book supplement will present a series of 6 reviews.

"The Man Who Lived Twice" by Eric Barnes, a biography of the life of Edward Sheldon, will be the first review. Greeted by the top literary critics as one of the best of the new non-fiction books, Barnes' literary biography is a memorial to a successful American playwright who served as inspiration for many writers and artists during the years in which he was severely paralyzed.

Purdie Meissner is a professionally trained actress and an academically trained critic. A graduate of Northwestern university school of speech, she also majored in literature.

She was a member of Charles Coburn's stock company in Schenectady, N. Y., and has worked with such distinguished stage personalities as Dennis King, Walter Hampden, and Cornelia Otis Skinner. Among the groups for which Mrs. Meissner regularly reviews are the Lake Shore club, South Shore Country club, and the Oak Park Country club.

Registrations will still be accepted for the course at the Adult Education office in the high school. Single admissions will also be sold at the door for each review. Reviews will be given on the second Monday of each month, October through March. (B7

Q. I've heard that it is proper now to use a piece of bread for wiping up gravy or jelly on one's plate. Is this correct?

A. While this was strictly out of question at one time it is now quite all right — provided of course, that you don't go at it as though you were mopping up a floor!

Q. Is it correct to have one's telephone number engraved on personal stationery?

A. No; the telephone number is never used on personal stationery.

Sanitary District Will End Flooded Basements: Olis

All residents of 7 townships will vote November 6 on whether to be annexed into the metropolitan sanitary district of greater Chicago. The 7 townships—Barrington, Hanover, Schaumburg, Lemont, Orland, Rich, and Bloom—will decide under a recent state senate bill autherizing the referendum.

CERTAIN VOTERS in certain areas of 11 more township-Palatine, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Northfield, Leyden, Proviso, Lyons, Palos, Worth, Bremen, Thornton will also vote.

Declared district president Anthony Olis optimistically:

"If the voters decide to be annexed, they will receive the advantages of the district's controls of flooded basements and underpasses, polluted drinking water and overflowed septic tanks."

THE ANNEXATION will cost residents in tthe areas approximately $3.70 a person per year on their tax bills. If all areas voting are in favor of the annexation, according to Olis, an increase of 80 to 85 per cent in the areas served by the sanitary district will be affected, but that it will only increase about 5 per cent the actual population now being served because of the sparse population in the areas.

Olis explained that sewage treatments outside the district operate at about 60 per cent efficiency while those of the sanitary district operate at approximately 95 per cent efficiency.

The areas, if annexed, will be taxed to pay their share of the Chicago district operating expenses, employees funds and construction costs. The rate will be 19.3 cents per $100 of valuation based on 1955 rates. (B7

Toll Road To Cost A Quarter From Rohlwing Rd. To O'Hare

It will cost northwest suburban commuters a quarter to use a short section of the northern Illinois toll road between Rohlwing rd. and O'Hare field.

The Illinois Toll Highway commission disclosed this week that there will be a minimum levy of 25 cents between the 2 points. From O'Hare junction, where the northern Illinois and Tri-State routes will intersect, into Chicago there will be a toll-free expressway.

Under the original plan, the section in Chicago was also to have been a toll road but under a special deal the 7-mile stretch east of O'Hare junction is being removed from the jurisdiction of the Toll Highway commission.

PRELIMINARY plans call for a full cloverleaf intersection at Rohlwing rd. But motorists will be able to drive onto the freeway at Route 83 only to drive to Chicago. Westbound motorists will be able to leave the turnpike at Route 83.

The charge from Route 83 to O'Hare junction, a distance of about 4 miles, will also be a quarter.

A commission official said that the commission will charge users a standard rate of one-and-a-half cents a mile in most sections. The officials said this plan would not be feasible on the crowded 8-mile section between O'Hare and Rohlwing rd.

West of the Fox river a punched card system will be used.

Virginia Terrace News

New Members

New auxilliary members who are helping with the hospital center membership drive in Virginia Terrace are: Margaret Schluter, Virginia Arnold, Dorothy Catlin, Gianna Riefstahl, Mary Ann Mc Cabe, Mary Healy, Charlotte Miraglia, Norma Pahr, Cecilia Frederickson, LaVerne Reichert, Carolyn Parkin and Pat Gorman.

Women's Auxiliary

Now that the Northwest Community Hospital center is coming closer to being a reality, a Woman's auxiliary is being formed and Elaine Kohler has been named to head the membership drive in Virginia Terrace. She plans to organize Coffee parties in each district at which guests will be given an opportunity to become charter members of the auxiliary. There will be many opportunities to serve the hospital in direct ways, such as serving meals, fund raising and other volunteer work, but Elaine pointed out that it is not necessary to take an active part in the organization in order to be a member. Anyone interested in becoming a charter member may contact Elaine Kohler at Cl 5-0307.

Boy Scouts

Virginia Terrace boy scouts were busy over the weekend taking part in the Scout-o-Ree at the field house. Jay Meyer and Dennis Rooney helped construct a knot board displayed by Wilson school troop 34. Michael Ber's troop 166, St. James school, won ninth place prize by constructing an ax yard, and troop 66 of St. James school, of which Danny Murray is a member, took first prize by constructing a signalling tower made of boards lashed together with rope.

Explorer post 166, of which Michael Ber is a member, spent the weekend camping out in Wild Rose, Wis., at Camp Napowan. Carl Schmidt, post advisor, and Richard Ber, father of Michael, accompanied the boys.

Brownies

The Wilson school brownie troop 401 and their leader, Mary Ellen Van de Merkt, visited the castle on Northwest hwy., near Fox River Grove, that has been a source of much curiosity to travelers of the highway. The castle reportedly built by one man to fulfill a life long dream, is complete with a drawbridge, moat and beautifully landscaped grounds. The girls who participated in the excursion were Leslie Bewley, Karen Forsberg, Patricia Klint, Judy Ladney, Donna O'Brien, Carol Williams and Pat Van de Merkt.

The need for more den mothers for Wilson school cub pack 234 expressed in last week's column has been filled; Virginia Arnold and Mary Steuber have volunteered to serve as den mothers.

Square Dancing

It is not too late to enroll in the beginner's classes in square dancing held Wednesdays at 8 p. m. at Forest View school, S. State rd., which is attended by a number of Virginia Terrace residents, who report that their enthusiasm mounts with each week. The caller, Don Finfrock, plans to start over with basic fundamentals at the beginning of each lesson as late as October 3.

The Christmas card coffee parties, which are being given as a fund raising project for the Wilson school PTA, got underway last week with a party at the home of Venetta Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke. Venetta's guests included Muriel Gerstein, Ruth Rollefson, Dolores Bracht, Joan Johnstone, Joanne Herndon, Jody Morrill, Lora Lee Howard, Jean Stevens, Mary Massa and Gwen Horter.

Another party scheduled for this Friday evening, with Claire Dever and Virginia Arnold as cohostesses will be held at the Dever home at 1430 N. Race. Those invited are Pierrette Leckie, Jean Hayes, Lois Martin, Alice Brown, Joan McKey, Betty Sorenson, Paul Dean, Helen Zabel, Phyllis Fluhrer, Nancy Griffith, Corrine Green, Elenore Whipple, Marge Kirby, Doris Sullivan, Tess Rossell and Joan Donath.

The first Christmas card kaffee klatsch to benefit the St. James building fund was given Wednesday morning by Marguerite Cates, 1334 N. Yale, whose guests included Nancy Dalton, Addie Fairfield, Marie Friel, Larue Reed, Elaine Steffan, Eleanor Barse, Marge Chupich, Jo Lampasona and Charlene Bang.

Wednesday evening another party for the same cause was given by Doris Sullivan, 1426 N. Race. Those invited were Dorothy Murray, Tess Rossell, Marian Hartig, Claire Dever, Dorothy Ukleja, Virginia Arnold, Elenore Whipple, Margaret Dougherty, Fran Comina, Mona McKiernan and Nancy Griffith.

Eight representatives from Virginia Terrace are modeling in the fashion show being presented tonight by the Newcomers club at the field house. Modeling children's clothing will be Carol Owen, Carol Friel, Carol Chupich, Cherie Barse and Leslee Bang. The adult models will be Isabel Nottoli, Larue Reed and Norma Pahr.

Student Nurse Honored

Miss Nancy Dever, student nurse, daughter of the Robert Devers, 1430 N. Race, has been selected to represent her senior class at St. Luke hospital at a formal dinner being given by the newly merged boards of St. Lukes and Presbyterian hospitals at the Conrad Hilton hotel Wednesday. The purpose of the dinner is to get-together the board, staff and personnel to discuss Presbyterian-St. Lukes long range development program and the means by which 7½ million dollars will be raised.

New Business Ventures

Two Virginia Terrace residents are going into business for themselves in October. Ed Dillon, 1402 N. Illinois, will open an employment agency in Chicago October 1.

George Lindholm, 1338 N. Chicago, known as "Bud" to his neighbors, will open the "Four Seasons Sporting Goods" store in the Westgate shopping center with a grand opening scheduled for October 11.

Muriel Gerstein's mother, Mrs. William Doonan, of Chicago, has been visiting the Kenneth Gersteins at 1409 N. Wilke rd.

Here from Rhode Island to visit the George Murrays were their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley, who were on their way to Omaha.

Virginia Arnold invited Muriel Gerstein, Elenore Whipple, Claire Dever, Mrs. William Doonan, Doris Sullivan and Nancy Griffith for coffee Friday morning to meet her mother, Mrs. Sarah Stoner, who visited the Arnold family for a week before returning to her home in Garrett, Ind.

Mrs. Zorka Chupich, mother of Frank Chupich, is leaving Sunday for her home in Los Angeles after an extended visit with Frank, Marge, Carol and Gail Chupich.

Vacations

Jerry Hnatt 1405 N. Illinois, and her daughters, Linda and Kathleen, have returned from a week's stay at Maplehurst camp in Traverse City, Mich. The Maplehurst campsite, which includes a private lake, was the old Reynolds estate and is now owned by Jerry's brother.

Don and Bea Harper, 1326 N. Race, joined another couple at Liggett's Holiday Inn at Brown's Lake, Wis. last weekend and found time to enjoy some bicycling, horseback riding, golfing and bowling at the resort.

New Babies

Barbara and Les Poklun are parents of an 8 pound 7 ounce daughter, Sally Dee, born September 22 in St. Francis hospital. Sally has an older brother, Scotty, and older sister, Susan.

Kathleen Mary, daughter of Ken and Doris Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, was born September 15 in Resurrection hospital. The Kosers have a 2-year-old son, Kenneth.

Thomas Patrick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon McCoy, was christened September 16. The McCoys entertained 30 friends and relatives from the Chicago area to celebrate the event.

Birthday Parties

If neighbors of Donna Murray, 1433 N. Wilke, wondered why her friends were scampering frantically in all directions from her home September 23, their questions were answered as Donna's guests rang door bells in their search for items for a scavenger hunt. The guests who came to congratulate Donna on her 10th birthday were Kathy Hartig, Marcia Cech, Judy Whipple, Maureen Gorman, Marcia Munk, Mary Pat Clark and Kathy Jaquet.

Jeffrey Jensen, 1334 N. Race, entertained 7 of his friends for lunch on his fourth birthday, Jeff's guests were Steve Raymond, Kirk Horter, Jeff Kirby, Boyd Francis, Drew Smith, Steve Harper and Tommy Green.

Because 2 of their children had birthdays just 5 days apart, Pat and Dick Gorman, 1440 N. Race, celebrated Paul's fourth and Coleen's third birthday with a family party September 24. Among the 24 guests who attended were the children's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Gorman and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Northrup, all of Chicago.

Robin Morrill, daughter of Bob and Jody Morrill, 1329 N. Wilke, celebrated her third birthday with Debbit Gerstein, Jeannie Kellogg, Jenny Rollefson, Cindy Howard, Laura Harper, Debbie Trout and Leigh Johnstone as her guests.

There will be a board meeting of the Wilson school PTA October 1 at the home of Mrs. Marge Moskal, Rand rd., Arlington Hts.

Paper Pick up

Residents of Virginia Terrace are asked to save and tie in bundles all newspapers and magazines and place on the curb before 10 a.m. October 13. Wilson school Boy Scout troop 34 will collect them. This is an important source of revenue for the purchase of equipment for the troop.

Tuition Kindergarten

As a result of the discussion of a possible tuition kindergarten at the general membership meeting of the VTIA, there has been a committee formed to further investigate the possibilities in this area. Joan Johnstone is serving as chairman with Marilyn Crouch, sen, Pat Hoover, Nancy Raymond, Blossom Kanous, Lorraine Jen-Jackie Koenig, Valerie Dawson, Lois Martin, Lois Kibbe, Adelaide Fairfield, Gwen Horter and Nancy Griffith serving as members.

The Bud Klint home at 1507 Clarendon was the scene of the marriage of Josephine Grinaldi and Oscar Klint, father of Bud. The Rev. Paul Stumpf, minister of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony. Bud's sister, Mrs. Earl Burton, served as matron of honor and Bud was his father's best man. A series of nightly farewell parties have been given for the Bill Ladneys who moved from Virginia Terrace Wednesday. The Ladneys will stay in Elmhurst until the first of the year, when Bill retires from the army and they move to their new home in Florida.

Northwest Symphony orchestra rehearsal sessions for the 1956-57 season are successfully underway in preparation for the seasons first concert to be given December 2.

The orchestra now boasts a playing membership of over 75 local residents. While the attendance is larger than at any other time, there is still need for talented violinists as well as openings in the viola, cello, string bass, and percussion sections.

Rehearsals are held Tuesday evenings at 8 in Maine township high schol music room. "Judging by the excellent performances at the early rehearsals, indications are that this season will be the symphony's finest," said H. L. Starch, publicity chairman.

Northwest Symphony association is presently contacting those who have expressed an interest in obtaining patron and associate memberships. Patrons and associates receive 2 tickets for each concert during the season. Season tickets for the concerts will go on sale in mid-October. (AMP

Handicapped Children To Benifit From Dance

by JO ZIEGLER, publicity chairman for seventh district

If your child is normal, God has blessed you beyond your own comprehension. Consider, for a moment the panic that would grip you, should you discover—or even suspect—that your child were other than normal. Your first thought would be "What can we do?"

In answer to the question, seventh district Junior Woman's clubs have an answer for all parents of all children. You may attend "Autumn Sights" benefit dance, from 9 p.m. to 12:30, November 3 at Elmhurst country club — and, at the same time, you will be lending a helping hand to 2 of the northwest suburbs' most worthwhile educational programs for handicapped children: Community School for Retarded Children and Wheeling Braille school for blind children.

COMMUNITY School for Retarded Children, located in Rolling Meadows, is open to all retarded children in the northwest area who are physically capable of attending. According to Mrs. Dove Carter, one of the volunteer teachers, no retarded child is a hopeless case and diagnoses of hopelessness are being disproved every day.

The tremendously worthwhile work of teaching retarded children to take their rightful place in society is being accomplished now at the Community school, but the enrollment could be increased and the quality of teaching could be vastly improved with additional funds for more space and better equipment.

The school was begun 1 year ago in a Sunday school classroom in Rolling Meadows. Although facilities and equipment have been limited, the school has accomplished the near-impossible with previously-helpless children with only 2½ hours' work a day. With increased facilities and equipment, the goal of a full-day session can be reached.

WHEELING BRAILLE School, in its 2 years of operation, has made it possible for blind children in the northwest suburban area to begin their education without leaving the warmth and security of their homes. Before the school was begun, blind children from this area had to be in residence in Jacksonville, Ill., at the Institution for the Blind; since blind children can begin Braille school at the age of 3, the need for a local school is apparent.

The blind child can eventually be integrated into regular classrooms with sighted students if he learns, during his early schooling, to read Braille and to use a Braille stylus and Braille typewriter.

AS YOU REACH for your money and hand it to the person from whom you're buying your ticket, you will effortlessly put into motion the strong, healthy muscles in your arms, you will easily call upon and use your sound brain and, with your good vision, you will be able to see the transaction. Remember that there are little children who cannot do these simple things; but remember too that they can be helped and that you have played a part in providing that help.

Make a note on your calendar now for "Autumn Sights," November 3 at Elmhurst country club. For tickets, contact Mrs. Robert E. Spinks, Arlington Heights project chairman, at CL 3-7184; Mrs. Albert Glass, Rolling Meadows project chairman, at CL 3-8987; or Mrs. Arthur Leimetter, Wheeling project chairman at Wheeling 638.

A baby shower was given for Mrs. Louis Slyvester by Mrs. William Whitelaw, Mrs. Lester Schnieder and Mrs. Clyde House. The affair was a success with 21 ladies present.

The Triangle club held election of officers at their last meeting. Mrs. Clyde House was elected president; Mrs. Robert Schultz, secretary; Mrs. Joe Warfsman, treasurer. A vote of thanks goes to the outgoing officers, Mrs. George Keizek, Mrs. Joe Heckenback and Mrs. John Revus, for the wonderful job they did this past year. The club has been divided into 2 groups and will meet in the women's homes. Hostess for this coming month are Mrs. Cisewski and Mrs. Gunther. The Triangle club held an exchange clothing sale Saturday in Mrs. Tom Merritt's garage. Coffee and cake were served.

The Brownie troop had a wiener roast at the forest preserves and a good time was had by all.

Daughter

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schultz on the arrival of their daughter, Ann Elizabeth, Monday, September 24.

Mrs. Henry Schwin entertained Friday evening with a toy demonstration. Doing their Christmas shopping early were Mesdames Merritt, Herout, Peterson, Revus, Becker, Bedo, Molitor, Heckenback, Combs, Krizek, Schultz and Lundstrom.

The women of Wedgewood have formed an auxiliary to the Improvement association. All the ladies are invited. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Tom Merritt's Tuesday, October 28. They are planning a bake sale and clothing exchange Saturday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the Prospect Heights Service station, Elmhurst and McDonald rds.

Pat Schwin celebrated his sixth birthday with a picnic at the forest preserves. His guests were Bob Peterson, Karen Revus, Rickey Kwiezinski, Joey Heckenback, Frank Bedo, Eddie Becker, Jimmy Merritt and Jeff Schnieder. The children had a wonderful time exploring the woods. They had a perfect day, with the exception of the bees who also enjoyed their luenh.

Sunday the men of Wedgewood started work on the brick entrance ways to be constructed at each corner. Those who turned out worked hard and did a wonderful job. Thanks goes to some of the wives who supplied coffee, cake and sandwiches to the men all day.

A welcome goes to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hauff, who have moved into Wedgewood. Neighbors hope they will be happy in their new home.

The Wedgewood Improvement association held their meeting Monday evening at the home of John Revus. Election of officers was held and Joe Warfsman was elected president, Tom Merritt, vice president, Henry Schwin secretary and Bill Marchetti, treasurer. October 14 the men will finish the brick work on the entrance way and all help will be appreciated.

PEOPLE WISE MARTINIZE

When I was first approached about going into the cleaning and pressing business, the fellow who presented the Martinizing Process said, "Barney, in this business you'll clean up; you'll never have to sponge off anyone." It just so happened, that the guy was right. Man, we are cleaning more clothes (which, of course, are sponged and spotted before) than I knew existed. Now it has just dawned on me what he meant. Oh, well, I never was very bright, so what'ya gonna' do!

Many garments should have a good and thorough cleaning before you start using them for the winter, so let's get cuttin'. I know that many of you have those lovely wool blankets, and we're just the organization that can give you the best cleaning and the best service.

This Martin Method is the best type cleaning that is available anywhere, so you can trust your special garments and materials to us. We still have that ONE-HOUR service that is available to one and all.

"Summer, that old Indian Summer"—I believe that's the way that old song goes. I don't know of a prettier time of the year than Indian Summer. The countryside is beautiful, the trees are turning and the fall season is upon us. True, it is a lovely time of the year, but it is also a treacherous time for one of those pesky colds.

Vitamins, as many of you know, come under the classification of miracle drugs, judging from the wonders they have worked. Vitamins are almost a MUST today in keeping the family healthy and happy. Your chances of skipping one of those "lousy colds" are much better if you and your family are taking one of the better vitamins. Some of the better vitamins today are Theragran, Myadec and there are many, many others made by reputable manufacturers. It is always a good idea to check with your doctor and find out what vitamin he recommends.

Don't let one of those colds spoil this most beautiful of all seasons. Now is the time to work in the yard or take one of those long rides and see the miracles that nature performs. Drop in and let us tell you about the different kind of vitamins that will keep you in tip-top shape all year round.

For the benefit of the newly-arrived, the Arlington Terrace boundaries are: Haddow to Dryden and south side of Oakton to north side of Marshall. Those living within this area automatically belong to the Home Owners association.

Fire Chief Asks Cooperation

Fire Prevention Week 1956 is being observed October 7-13.

Its purpose is to direct public attention to the 11,000 lives and $885,218,000 in property destroyed by fire in 1955, and to the safety measures which can help reduce this needless waste in future years.

President Eisenhower has issued a proclamation setting aside one week of the year for nation-wide fire prevention effort.

Arlington Heights Fire Department will soon be better able than ever to safeguard the homes and property of Arlington Heights residents. A new fire station and new equipment are on the way.

Paid firemen will give 24-hour service, which with well trained volunteer members, insures the maximum in fire protection.

Chief Winkelman asks the public to be fire protection conscious. "Watch those cigarettes, faulty electrical wiring, avoid leaking gas, and do not let children play with matches," says Winkelman.

Trustees Authorize Salvo Against Sanitary District

Arlington Heights village board unanimously opposes joining the Chicago Sanitary district.

That is only the opinion of 1 trustee but the board did authorize at its Tuesday night session preparation of a resolution in opposition to the November 6 referendum which seeks to annex some northwest suburban communities to the district.

On the motion of the trustee, James Millay, the board voted appointment of a 5-man committee to prepare a resolution for action at the next meeting.

TRUSTEES Forrest Davis and Richard Bronwell recently told representatives of 12 home owner organizations in the village that it would be cheaper by some $2,000,000 over a 20-year period for the village to continue operation of its own sewage disposal plant.

After hearing both sides, representatives of the home owner organizations are now considering a recommendation to their respective memberships.

Anthony A. Olis, president of the Chicago Sanitary District, told the group at a recent meeting that "Arlington Heights is at the very doorstep of the district . . . only 2,700 feet to the district's interceptor sewer and a connection could be built for $250,000. "That's cheaper than continuing operation of the local plant," Olis said.

DISCOUNTING discrepancies in the costs of joining the district or continuing the present system which have been variously estimated by the village and district, Olis noted the fast increasing suburban area populations and potential sewage problems.

In the referendum, the sanitary district seeks to connect about 18 more communities including Wheeling, Schaumburg Center, Bartlett, Barrington, in addition to Arlington Heights and Palatine.

And, it's possible that even if Arlington Heights and/or Palatine vote against the referendum, they will be connected to the district, anyhow. The state legislature directed that a majority vote among all voters in the proposed annexation area will bring the district's services to the whole area. (AF

Lending Closet A Reality 10 Years Ago

Arlington Heights Nurses club lending closet has outgrown the closet space in the village hall and now has space in the basement of the Arlington Heights library.

The lending closet became a reality nearly 10 years ago from an idea conceived by Mrs. Charles Bloecker, a charter member of the Nurses club. At first it was a central clearing-house for sick room supplies, such as crutches, heating pads and all such equipment needed for a bed-fast convalescent, the articles having been donated for distribution by Arlington Heights residents.

Due to increased calls and a need for more extensive supplies, the club has, in recent years, added necessary articles from the club funds. Storage space now includes wall-to-wall closets in the library basement, built by the club with the consent of the library board. Supplies by the hundreds come and go every month completely without charge. Registered nurses, serving on a volunteer basis, distribute the articles.

For anything from a hospital bed to a thermometer, telephone Mrs. Gordon Ward, Cl 3-4140, or Mrs. Robert Mannel, Cl 3-9170. (A

Set Record At Free Church; Father-Son Banquet Planned

With a record smashing 335 in attendance, the Bible school of Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church completed the second week of its 6-week Bible school improvement days project.

The new record, which exceeded the former attendance record by More than 70 pupils, also kept the school ahead of 2 other suburban Evangelical Free church Bible schools competing in the expansion contest. The margin by which the Arlington Heights school is leading Glenview has been narrowed in the past week in spite of the record breaking attendance. As the contest pushes into its third week it appears, according to Bible school superintendent, Carl Nelson of Prospect Heights, that the Arlington Heights school will go well over its contest goal of 350 students.

The annual fathers and sons banquet of the Free church will be held Friday, Oct. 12 at 6:30 p.m. at the church, Dunton and St. James.

Along the Camp Fire trail

At the first 3 meetings of the Tawanka Campfire girls held at the home of the co-leader, Mrs. Charles Ross, election of officers was held and group name chosen. Rank requirements were discussed and started, after which all participated in games, songs and refreshments. (A

Raymond Hackman, well known speaker and magician, will supply the main part of the evening's entertainment. Songs and choruses led by Carl Nelson of Prospect Heights, a male quartet, and a trumpet solo by Bill Lindahl of Palatine will complete the program.

Tickets may be secured from Carl Nelson of Prospect Heights, Dick Proch, Arlington Heights or Oke Funk of Prospect Heights. An invitation is extended to all fathers and sons in the community.

Sunday evening, Nov. 18, Arlington Heights chapter of SPEBSQSA will introduce to this community for the first time the "For-Mor" quartet consisting of Elwood Davidson, bass, Henry Davidson, lead, Harry Nesberg, baritone and Don Ring, tenor.

When this quartet started to sing 8 years ago, they were all tenors. Elwood Davidson, their bass, had the highest voice of the group. They have never used a pitch pipe.

Their popularity is evidenced by the fact that they have sung all over the United States and Canada. For the past 4 years they have sung on 38 week ends of each year from September 1 to June 1.

Tickets for this show will be sold beginning October 8 by Arlington Heights Womans club to raise funds for the community school for retarded children. Members of the Arlington chapter will also sell tickets. (A

MORE EATING MEAT FOR YOUR MONEY AT JEWEL!

Jewel Food Stores

Way back in 1939 Jewel established EXTRA VALUE TRIM—removing excess fat and bones from each cut of meat before it is weighed and packaged. Every market uses Jewel's 104-page Meat Manual which gives exact EVT trimming directions with pictures. Our newest manual was planned by Mr. Purdy, pictured at right, and a committee of eight market managers. They went over each cut of meat to arrive at the trim to best give Mrs. Homemaker what she wanted.

Here's what Jewel's EVT means to you: EVT means each cut is ready for cooking without further trimming by you at home . . . EVT means that meat will fit better in your cooking pans . . . EVT means easier carving because less fat and bones are in the way . . . EVT means better gravy making because of less excess fat in the drippings . . . Only enough fat is left on to make good juicy cooked meat . . . EVT means you do not buy and pay for excess fat and bones —so you get more eating meat for your money at Jewel.

Bill Purdy, in charge of procurement and merchandising of all meat, poultry and seafood at Jewel, is proud to talk about Jewel's Extra Value Trimmed Meat. Bill started working in a meat market as a delivery boy when he was only 14 years old. He decided to make it his life work and climbed right up to the top. In fact the government asked him to join the meat section of OPA during World War II. He joined Jewel as Head of Merchandising Division 10 years ago.

WSCS To Hear Reader Present Monologue

CLARABETH KERNER

Clarabeth Kerner, interpretative reader from Glencoe, will present an original monologue, "Two Who Know Him" before the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church, Arlington Heights, next Tuesday afternoon at a 1 o'clock luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Kerner, whose programs are popular in this vicinity, has a broad and varied background in the art of interpretative speech and drama. She has led drama schools in Texas, Oklahoma, and Wisconsin and has conducted drama productions for public schools, civic and church groups for 12 years.

Inspiration for the monologue "Two Who Know Him" has been taken from the pages of the New Testament for this presentation in costume. It is the story of how contact with Jesus changed or influenced the lives of those who knew Him. This dramatization must be classified as fiction, although the setting and characters are based on fact.

Mrs. Walter Dill will present the devotional thought for the day. At 12:30 p.m. a spiritual meditation service will be held in the church. Mrs. Joseph Brant and members of Fidelis circle are making luncheon arrangements.

A nursery attendant will care for small children.

Scouts of troop 360 are working together on the good grooming badge. Mrs. Gustav Staahl, well-known teacher of modeling and dramatics in Arlington Heights, attended the troop meeting and demonstrated good posture and exercises to maintain it. She started the girls on a program of daily care of the body, clothing and personal property.

Mrs. Staahl pointed out that a charming personality is one of the most important factors necessary to a girl who wishes to have that well-groomed appearance.

Karen Koeneman, an eighth grade student of St. James school, has been welcomed into the troop as a new member. She was transferred from the Chicago council. (A

Nichols To Head Hospital Gift Drive

Hugh E. Nichols, of 768 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, has accepted the chairmanship of the special gifts committee for the Northwest Community Hospital Fund-Raising campaign, Nicholas Lattof, campaign chairman, announced this week. Nichols, a partner in the Chicago accounting firm of Arthur Anderson co., said he was selecting a large committee to assist him. Those who have agreed to serve as district chairmen in Arliington Heights are: Robert Blackburn, Earl G. Ogier, George N. Tuttle, Edward Carlisle, Fred Jasper, H. W. Dotts, and Robert Malcolmson.

Chairmen for other cities will be named soon, according to Nichols. The committee will start its solicitation effort in 2 to 3 weeks. This will precede the residential canvass, which is planned to extend into all the homes in the region to be served by the hospital.

IN ADDITION to the special gifts committee, Lattof announced the appointment of a committee on memorials, foundations, chain stores and national firms operating in this area. It will be headed by William H. Ball, treasurer of Quaker Oats co. Ball said he would be assisted by Tom Hildebrand, co-chairman, George A. Glow, Virgil K. Horath, James R. Lawrence, Walter Krause, Warren L. Fellingham, and Sgt. Oscar Johnson.

"A concerted effort will be made to bring to the attention of area people the opportunities for having memorial rooms and departments in the new hospital," Ball declared. "The architects have prepared sketches and these will be published in a brochure, so that subscribers to the hospital can see what is available in the way of memorials. These gifts will be acknowledged by inscribed bronze plaques placed in the dedicated rooms or departments.

"We must rely heavily upon these memorial gifts to provide the money needed to build and equip the hospital. Citizens and firms of the hospital area who are interested in this type of giving should contact me, or any member of the committee.

"We have delayed too long in providing a hospital for this rapidly expanding area. The time has come when, for our own health and safety, we must build it. The support of everyone residing in the territory to be served will be necessary to achieve our goal."

LATTOF SAID that plans were progressing in setting up the complete fund-raising organization, including the formation of business and residential solicitation committees, He explained that a brochure, containing architectural sketches of the hospital, would be made available soon to all residents of the area.

A series of group leadership meetings are scheduled for next week. (AF

Hospital Auxiliary Sets Oct. 8 As 'Kick-Off' For Membership Drive

Plans were completed this week for a series of membership teas to be held the week of October 8th to promote interest in the Women's Auxiliary of the Northwest Community hospital. Mrs. Everett Wagner, President of the Auxiliary, said that the teas would be held in the five townships in the hospital area.

"The Auxiliary was not formed as a temporary organization to assist in the fund-raising campaign for the hospital," she explained. "It will be permanent, and will work closely with the Board of Trustees in fulfilling the programs and policies of the hospital. We will cooperate, of course, in the fund-raising efforts, hoping that individual members will volunteer, for unless the funds are available, we cannot build or equip a hospital.

"The Auxiliary program is three-fold and traditional: one, fund-raising, with all money raised to be expended in the interest of the hospital, to provide such things as special equipment and extra 'homey' touches in the hospital; two, interpretation of the hospital to friends, neighbors and the community as a whole — its services, needs, problems, etc.; three, volunteer service to the hospital and its patients."

PRESENT PLANS she said call for a large, active membership. The charter membership fee is $1. Women can join until January 1, 1957, as Charter Members. After that, the fee will be $2 per year.

Tentative plans have been made, according to Mrs. Wagner, for an essay contest in the elementary, junior high, and high schools of the hospital area. This project will be launched in about three weeks, with prizes for the best essays submitted.

Women wishing to join the Auxiliary, other than by attending teas, please contact any of the following Township vice presidents: Mrs. Charles P. Gilkison, Barrington; Mrs. George O. Larsson, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. John J. Johnston, Palatine; Mrs. Herbert K. Knutson, Roselle; and Mrs. Albert C. Peters, Arlington Heights.

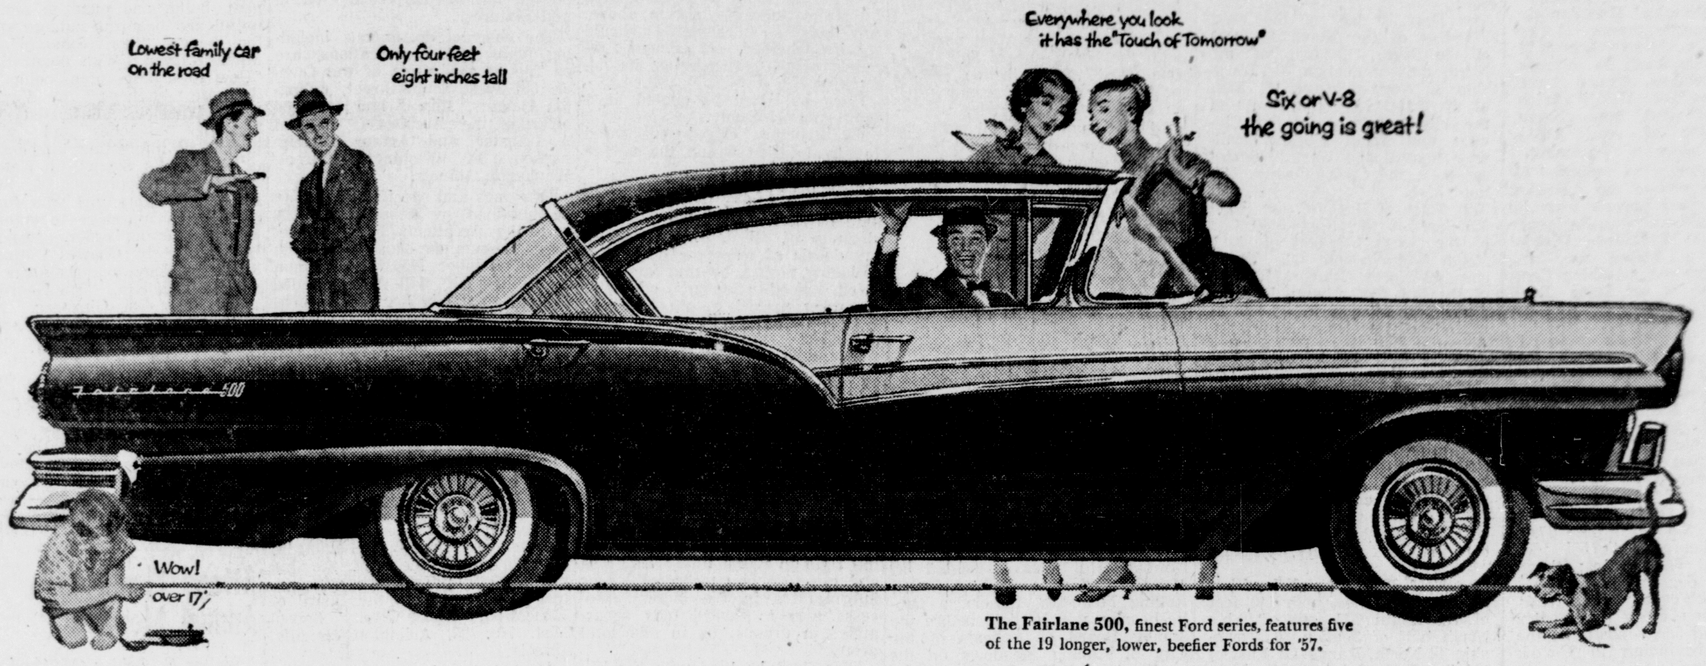
came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow



The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Ford's library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing, so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine over-17-foot Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five over-16-foot Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER the takeoff on professional wrestling we witnessed a couple of winters ago at Arlington High school when the high school grapplers wrestled "TV style." Present in the persons of high school grapplers were "Dapper Danny," barefoot "Farmer Joe," and others, including "Gorgeous George" with perfume, posies and butler. "George" was later thrown out of the ring, taking the ropes with him, and hit with a chair by a lady bystander, the chair falling into a hundred pieces.

Bruce Wilkerson

Those golden locks belonged to none other than Bruce Wilkerson, whose deep-set eyes you see staring at you from this column this week. High school playtime has long gone, and Bruce is now starting tackle on Grinnell college football team, though but a sophomore. His 6-2 and 240 pounds help.

Bruce calls Prospect Heights home, is going to see plenty of action this year in the line. He earned frosh numerals last year in football, wrestling and track, and looks "very promising" thus far in varsity football, according to his coaches.

Another West Suburban league grad, also a sophomore, with Grinnell is end Larry Dukes of Riverside with Lee Moses of Maine listed as a reserve end.

THE BEARS disappointed us again this week, losing to Baltimore. This Sunday we'll be watching them at Green Bay, hoping last year's early season defeats do not repeat themselves. And we hope Timmy O'Connell is given a chance to show what he can do. What better time could Tommy pick to shine than on the same weekend his alma mater, Illinois, is meeting Washington in Seattle, against which Tommy had his greatest day in college ranks.

Tommy completed 14 of 17 passes that day in 1952, for 262 yards. One of the scoring plays was a 78-yard pass play to Rocky Ryan, who helped the Illini rack up a 48-13 victory.

Tommy passed the Huskies into defeat the year before, too, though some fourth quarter heroics were necessary. In 1950 the 2 teams were tied with 7 minutes left. Then O'Connell, only a sophomore, launched a 64-yard drive which ended with 5 straight completed passes from the spread formation to cop the ball game. His overall record against Washington is 22 of 27 passes, and .814 average.

Next time Paddy Driscoll decides Ed Brown of the Bears needs a rest, let's see something of O'Connell.

HOW FAST IS Bob Mitchell, Illinois' sensational junior halfback? That question has been asked many times since the Hot Springs, Ark., flash played a major role in upending mighty Michigan at Champaign last year. Now, here's the answer, supplied by no better authority than Mr. Mitchell, himself.

"I ran a :09.6 hundred as a junior in high school. That's my best."

"I really don't remember my best time in the 220-yard dash. I think it was :22.1. Leo Johnson (Illinois track coach) timed me in :06.2 in the 60-yard dash indoors last winter. I haven't run a 100-yard dash since I came to college. I've been too busy with football."

A BAD ANKLE delayed Doug Hildebrandt's football debut at the University of Miami as a varsity player last week but he should be able to take part in this week's game against Boston college . . . Hildebrandt, a sophomore from Palatine, is the only second year man among Miami's top 3 left ends and is well regarded by the coaches . . . The Hurricanes trimmed South Carolina 14-6 in their opener last week . . . Both Hinsdale alums Tom Skubich and Larry Kellum are showing well at DeKalb, the former scoring his team's only TD against Wheaton in the opener on a 47-yard jaunt.

In the east Arlington's Dick Winterbauer kicked a conversion that helped Yale whip Connecticut.

Starting right guard for Michigan in its rout of UCLA was Marv Nyren of Maine . . . At quarterback for Carthage in its rout of Principia was John Eakins of Arlington . . . Eakins is doing a superb job of ball handling for the Redmen, and is averaging 45.8 yards on punts, 3 more than last season when he ranked third in the nation . . . Hinsdale grid lettermen of last year going on to college include Don Campbell, most valuable, to Williams college; all-state end Dick Winkler to Yale; all-league halfback Jack Rezny to Culver-Stockton; center Ray Mains to Principia; all-league fullback Blair Stanicek to Knox; all-league guard Dick Gruhler to Colorado; and all-league tackle Ken Kraml to Illinois . . . Over 100,000 people are expected to watch the Michigan State game at Michigan this week.

MOST POPULAR name in football today could be Brown . . . There's Ed Brown of the Bears and the Browns of Cleveland . . . There's a Brown who ran back a kickoff 87 yards for a Knox TD . . . Wayne Brown of St. Olaf helped set up a TD as the Northmen whipped Ripon . . . Brown beat Columbia, 20-0 . . . There's end Leo Brown of Ohio State who blocked a punt and ran 18 yards for a TD against Nebraska (and fullback Jerry Brown).

And if you didn't notice, only Big 10 team not to win Saturday was Indiana, which lost to Iowa.

Victims to Big 10 teams were Iowa State, California, UCLA, Missouri, Nebraska, Marquette, Stanford and Washington . . . Notre Dame, which gets back into action this weekend against Indiana, holds a 19-5 advantage over the years, though the Hoosiers won the first contest in 1898, 11-5 . . . When the Irish bowed to Southern Methodist it was the first time they had lost 2 games in a row since 1944 . . . South Bend eleven lost its final game of the '55 season to Southern Cal.

TOM OCASEK of Arlington has qualified for the freshman-varsity swimming team at Ohio State where he is working out under tutelage of former Olympic coach Mike Peppe . . . Tom took part in orientation week exhibition swimming in several events as well as swimming anchor on the relay team . . . West Suburban Loop athletic directors met at York Monday, with some of the finer points of wrestling matches the chief topics.

Once again Glenbard will not be competing in the sport, and Downers Grove varsity only.

Thus the sport won't be considered in competition of winner of "president's cup," but league champions will be declared . . . The Bards are awaiting construction of a recently authorized gym to provide grappling facilities . . . It'll be at least 2 years, however . . . Arlington freshmen had such an easy time of disposing of Hinsdale Monday, using 50-plus boys in the process, we wonder if the young Devils are weak, or whether the Heights eleven was "on" for the day . . . At any rate, both tackling and blocking was out of this world for freshmen and local fans are hoping the Card frosh will continue this trend.

Arlington's John Deininger was dropped by the Bears Saturday with John's leg still ailing.

John considered trying out with the Cardinals at their invitation, but as of Tuesday decided to sit out this season with an eye to possibly trying again next fall . . . Final on Sujack: John was accepted at Indiana but changed his mind about attending college, is now back home.

About 20 boys turned out last Saturday morning for the new flag football program that the Mount Prospect park district is sponsoring.

The park district is in need of a better turnout, however, in order to have the 6-team league originally planned; and Michael Skuban, recreation director, says that any boys in the park district area, who are in the seventh and eighth grades, are welcome to come and play in this program. There is still time to register the rest of this week, and be placed on a team.

Games will begin Saturday morning at the football field at Lions park, and continue every Saturday until October 27, from 9 a.m. to 12, under adult supervision. There will be 9 players to a team and they may wear street or gym clothes with gym shoes. The ball will be the regulation junior-sized football.

Registrations must be made at the office at Lions park and games will be played there on the new football field. The playing area is 110 yards by 45 yards with newly erected goal posts. It is located between the 2 ball diamonds, south of the swimming pool.

Pros. Hts. Pounds St. James For 21-3 Victory

Prospect Heights continued its winning ways by downing St. James 21 - 3 for their third successive win in the Little "8" grammar school softball conference, thereby maintaining their hold on first place with Elk Grove.

Coach Ben Kozlik of Prospect Heights used 25 players and 3 pitchers. Tom Petrosino received credit for his third win by allowing only 1 run and 5 hits in 5 innings and striking out four. It was the extra base hitting in the clutch that spelled "Walterloo" for St. James.

Bob Kist started this uprising for Prospect Heights with a bases loaded triple in the second inning. Tom Petrosino duplicated this feat in the third inning and Les Truelson, highlighted the 14 run inning with a grand slam home run. (S

Name Starters For Card Frosh 'B' Game Thursday

Freshman 'B' football squad at Arlington high school will play its first game at Hinsdale Thursday with Coach Rusty Dowell in command.

Coach Dowell has been working with this group as a separate unit apart from the regular frosh team at Heights. He will be using a few boys, however, that saw limited action in the regular frosh game with Hinsdale Monday.

Hinsdale Blanks Heights Sophs

The frosh-soph Cardinals met more than their match at Hinsdale last Saturday, losing 12-0. Hinsdale scored both touchdowns in the second half, after being held scoreless for two quarters.

Playing without the services of Richard Bader and Al Sander, two regulars, the locals were able to register only four first downs and 93 yards on the ground. Arlington was never in the ball game after the first few minutes.

FROM THE WAY the game started one would have thought the Arlington gridders were going to tear the Hinsdale field apart. The young Cards took the opening kickoff and marched to the Hinsdale 17 before falling 1 foot shy of a first down. Hinsdale took over but moved backward, punting from their own 4. In those opening minutes Arlington looked like world beaters.

They were anything but world beaters the second half. Hinsdale's big fullback Kilianek moved through the line and around end with considerable ease. Quarterback Hart's deceptive maneuvering kept the Arlington linemen off guard. (Sp

Card Harriers Trim Palatine And Hinsdale

Arlington high school's harriers won 2 meets this past week, tripping Palatine Tnursday 24-35 and Hinsdale Saturday 24-40.

Dan Kusek carried off first place for Palatine with 9:51 on the Pirate course. Arlington copped the next 3 places with Ken Courter, Alan Hutchinson and Ted Geocaris coming through. In seventh and eighth for Heights were Bob Taggart and Ron Marks.

Next 3 boys for Palatine were Roy Hahnfeld fifth, Jordan Danforth sixth and Terry Hicks 11th. Arlington's first 5 boys finished within 13 seconds.

THE CARDINALS, coached by Russ Attis, defeated Hinsdale in spite of the Red Devils copping first and third on their own course. Busch covered the distance in 10:09, just a hair ahead of Ken Courter o fthe Cardinals.

Hart was third for Hinsdale, with Martin, Robson and Eggert finishing 11-12-13. For Heights it was Dick Koopman fourth, Taggart fifth, Alan Hutchinson sixth and John Anderson seventh. (SP

Seek Added Strength For Card Sophs

Arlington's frosh-soph football squad needs added strength, and Coach Bill Beckman is calling up 3 freshmen for this week's homecoming game against Maine, upon recommendation of freshmen coaches.

From the yearling group come Dan Striegel at tackle, Roy Klehm at guard and Alan Westergaard at halfback. The threesome has performed beautifully with the frosh and could give the sophomores a lift.

THEY WON'T be starting Friday night, but will undoubtedy be given a chance to show what they can do in faster competition. The Card's second year squad has had a couple of injuries which have cut reserve strength.

Alan Sander missed the Hinsdale game due to an eye injury, but he'll be back in action against Maine Friday. Dick Bader has a kidney infection, and will be out 4 weeks. He also missed the Hinsdale game.

Arlington edged Maine last year as freshmen, but will have to improve their tackling and blocking this week to turn the trick again. Co-coaches Bill Beckman and Dick Mudge are hoping the terrific job of fundamentals of football so evident in the freshmen game Monday for Arlington will rub off on the frosh-sophs. (Sp

Need Games

Mt. Prospect grade school football team, composed of seventh and eighth graders, is looking for games.

The boys are all students from Central school. Coaching the boys is Edward Graham. Anyone wishing to schedule games with this group is asked to contact Mr. Graham at CLearbrook 3-1112.

Arlington Harriers Beat Elgin 18-48

Arlington's cross country squad annexed its fourth victory in a row Tuesday when the locals dumped Elgin 18-48 on the Watch City course.

It was Ken Courter leading the way for Coach Russ Attis as he pounded around the trip in 9:55. In second spot was teammate Bob Taggart just 5 seconds behind. Once again the first 5 Heights lads finished within a 13-second interval.

Other Heights boys in the money included Alan Hutchinson 4th, John Anderson 5th, Ron Marks 6th. Others included Les Vaughn 7th, Dick Koopman 8th, Ted Geocaris 10th, Bob Lockwood 14th, Helmut Lux 17th, Tom Geocaris 18th, David Palmer 19th, George Luedke 20th.

Better Tackling A Must For Heights Eleven

Maine promises to be another rough opponent for the homecoming game at Arlington Friday night, with the Blue Demons never tasting defeat on the gridiron from the local Cardinals.

The visitors are big. They're tough. And they have a record of 5 straight wins over the Heights eleven since the first game in 1951, a 41-6 affair. Since that time Maine has won 35-0, 7-0, 20-13 and 20-6.

TACKKLING was poor for Arlington in the Hinsdale game, probably the worst all year. Pass defense was fair, but several passes were batted down that might have been snared for intercepted passes and changed the tempo of the game. The Heights offense was acceptable.

That's a quick rundown on the performance of the Cardinals last week and stresses the trouble spots to be ironed out this week. The squad is going through tackling drills every day this week. In addition several defensive lineup changes are contemplated by varsity coach "Bus" Ormsbee.

MAINE has potentially one of greatest teams since the days of Gallup and Nyren, the latter now a starter with Michigan, in 1952. The juniors with the squad have never lost a game, either as freshmen or sophomores.

Card blocking was improved in the Hinsdale game, and could be a big help against Maine. Usual homecoming fanfare will prevail before, during and after the game Friday, which could be a big help to team play for the local eleven.

Midget Footballers At Recreation Park

All boys interested in midget football who have not reported as yet are reminded they can still participate in the program of Arlington Heights park district by reporting to Recreation park Saturday morning at 9:30.

DICK WISNER of Palatine and his Coach Charley Feutz were honored at the quarter back club meeting at the Terrace Casino in the Morrison Hotel Monday as Tommy Kouzmanoff, prep sports editor of the Chicago American, gave Wisner a certificate as the back of the week. Wisner was nominated by 4 Northwest conference coaches who watched him score 4 touchdowns against Wauconda in the opening conference game.

It was a well deserved honor to a fine boy and excellent student who really loves to play football.

The real test of a great competitor is to win honors and still remain unaffected and conscious of the fact that in team sports it is the team which makes it possible for the individual to be a star. We feel sure Wisner is the type of boy who would rather have the team win the game than to gain extra glory for himself. That is why we are so glad that Dick has been accorded this honor.

WATCHING PALATINE beat Fenton this past week it was our impression that Bob Nordin was our local back of the week with his 86 yards gained in 16 carries and that Bob Hummel's defensive line play rated him consideration as our lineman of the week. Anyway, these boys looked good but more important the team looked very good.

Somehow this Pirate team is the most interesting to watch of any grid team we have seen represent Palatine.

We like their spirit. We like the way they handle themselves. We like the way they are coached. We like the fact that they are concerned about their own training on the field and off. We like to see a team play that is in good condition. Everyone in the stands can sense that this team likes to play football and has a real desire to play the best they know how.

GLENBROOK'S UNDEFEATED streak of 20 games became 21 last Friday night but much of the lustre is gone because little Grayslake held the mighty Spartans to a scoreless tie. After watching Glenbrook handle a good Zion team and soundly trounce Antioch we had the idea no one would come close to them in their own league.

Maybe the Spartans had the same idea. It is tough for a coach to get a team up for a game that appears to them to be in the bag. That Grayslake tie will make the road rougher the rest of the season for all the other teams in the league will be encouraged to think "if Grayslake can do it, so can we."

A GREAT MAN in the field of physical education died Saturday from a heart attack while playing golf. He was Leon Kranz, head of the department of physical education at Northwestern university. Our contacts with Dr. Kranz have been limited to taking a course in problems of physical education at Northwestern and listening to him discuss his philosophy of the relation of sports and physical education as featured speaker at educational meetings. A recognized leader in his field, he was a great advocate of physical fitness as the primary consideration in a sports and P. E. program.

RECENTLY THE national federation of high school athletic associations has called attention to the matter of sportsmanship and our state association headed by Albert Willis has distributed a circular to schools containing a "Sportsman's Creed."

We feel all readers and fans should be aware of what this creed includes. The creed is divided into parts for the player, the coach, the official, and the spectator. We think it is worth reprinting here with due credit given to the Illinois High School Association.

THE PLAYER

He lives clean and plays hard. He plays for the love of the game.
He wins without boasting, he loses without excuses and never quits.
He respects officials and accepts their decisions without question.
He never forgets that he represents his school.

THE COACH

He inspires in his boys a love for the game and the desire to win.
He teaches them that it is better to lose fairly than win unfairly.
He leads players and spectators to respect officials by setting them a good example.

THE OFFICIAL

He knows the rules.
He is fair and firm in all decisions. He calls them as he sees them.
He treats players and coaches courteously and demands the same treatment for himself.
He knows the game is for the boys and lets them have the spotlight.

THE SPECTATOR

He never boos a player or official.
He appreciates a good play no matter who makes it.
He knows that the school gets the blame or the praise for his conduct.
He recognizes the need for more sportsmen and fewer "sports."

GOING BOTH WAYS for the Fenton Bisons this year is Dick McCann, junior end who played outstanding ball as a sophomore last season. Dick stands 5-10, weighs 143, and looks particularly good as defensive left end. —Fenton Foto

Card Frosh Dispose Of Hinsdale Yearlings, 31-14

Arlington's freshman footballers looked like pros Monday as they soundly whipped Hinsdale 31-14, using more than 50 boys in the process. The game might have gone to 50-0 if Coach Cutis Larsen had left his regulars in, but chose to give more boys experience, the object of yearling grid.

Actually, the victory was more than just a pleasing one — it was the first frosh win over Hinsdale in any year. It was a superb exhibition of Heights freshmen who showed they knew how to block and tackle. It also had a disappointing note when George Bork's 100-yard run after a pass interception was called back because of clipping.

WHETHER OR NOT the local frosh can give a repeat performance in future games in unknown. But for the moment the local boys are riding the crest in the thought Hinsdale whipped LaGrange by 2 touchdowns, who's next?

The young Cards drew first blood in the opening period when Alan Westergaard dashed 20 yards around left end. Conversion was made by Dan Striegel. A Hinsdale end picked up a lateral dropped by Heights in the second quarter and scooted 50 yards for the TD, with a pass making the extra point.

HINSDALE fumbled on its own 20, Arlington recovering. After a drive to the 2, Westergaard plunged across for the score. That same period Mike Dundy tromped around left end for 10 yards and another TD after the Cards had driven from midfield.

In the final segment Dundy scored again on a flat pass from Gene Dahlquist good for 10 yards after a sustained drive. Hinsdale soon fumbled a lateral exactly as Arlington did previously with dire results, but this time substitute tackle Dennis Schneck picked it up and ran 60 yards for the TD.

Arlington fumbled on its own 25, with Hinsdale going all the way on a series of plays for final score of the game. (Sp

Surprising Pirates Top Fenton As Defense Holds

The surprising Palatine Pirates took over the undisputed leadership in the Northwest conference Friday night when they defeated Fenton Bisons 14-0 while Glenbrook and Grayslake were playing a scoreless tie. Palatine is the only Northwest team with 2 victories. It was the eighth time in a row Fenton gridders have lost to Palatine.

Palatine played consistently good ball all the way Friday night. Outstanding was Palatine's defense. The Bisons just once got inside the Palatine 30 yard line and that time they lost the ball on downs on the 20. Fenton made more first downs than the Pirates and their net yardage of 114 to 126 compared favorably but they never could put their gains together for a concerted drive.

PALATINE struck quickly in the first period. On the second play from scrimmage Millay and Lundgren recovered a Fenton fumble on the 21 yard line but one play later Leon Langguth recovered a Palatine fumble on the 20. A little later Palatine blocked a Fenton punt but the advantage was nullified by an offside penalty. Fenton punted to the Pirate 45 but Dick Wisner lugged it back to the Fenton 40.

From this point Bob Nordin carried the ball 4 times in succession and the Pirates had a touchdown. Big gain was a 34 yard off tackle run by the chunky Pirate halfback. The touchdown was scored from the three yard line and Curt Lewin place kicked the extra point.

IN THE second quarter Palatine started on their own 28 and moved all the way to the Fenton 12 yard line before Phil Sloan grabbed a Palatine fumble to stop the drive. Seven plays later the half ended.

Early in the third period Fenton made their bid taking the ball on their own 40 and moving 40 yards to the Pirate 20 before losing the ball on downs as Palatine's pass defense stiffened.

Early in the last quarter Fenton punted to Dick Wisner of Palatine who took the ball on his own 48 and ran it back with good interference 52 yards for a touchdown, his fifth on two conference games. Curt Lewin again place kicked the extra point.

IN SPITE of runs of 13, 18, and 22 yards by Lars Henriksen the Fenton offense was contained in their own end of the field the remainder of the game. Fenton had 9 first downs to Palatine's 7 of which 2 were on penalties. Fenton completed 8 passes in 21 tries for 44 yards with the longest 15 yards. Palatine did not throw a pass but gained a net of 126 yards from scrimmage on the ground.

Great improvement in defensive play both against running plays and passes was the outstanding feature from the Palatine standpoint. Palatine had the faster charging line and that was the most significant difference between the two teams. Palatine team spirt appears to be the best ever observed by local fans who turned out in sufficient numbers to give the school a gate in excess of $400 for the home opener.

Next week the Pirates have a severe test at Grayslake against probably the strongest defensive club in the league. (SP

Hinsdale Racks Up 504 Yards To Whip Arlington

Arlington's Cardinals may have met the "class" of this year's WSC football race last Saturday afternoon. Hinsdale exhibited power on the ground and potency through the air in handing the locals their first conference setback, 27-6.

The defending champions racked up a tremendous total of 504 yards net in making the Cards their 25th straight victim at home. The winners scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second, and once in the fourth. One other score was called back due to a penalty and another faltered on the 2 foot line at the game's close.

THE CARDINALS' consolation touchdown came in the fourth quarter. After starting strongly the locals were held pretty much in check by a tough Hinsdale line. A pass play from Tom Grey to Jack Weber and a lateral to teammate Dan Vittum covered a total of 45 yards, giving the Cards a first down on the Hinsdale 19. Gains by Grey and Shoemake took the ball to the 5. Haase finally crashed over from 1 yard out, with 6:50 remaining in the game.

Poor tackling on the part of the Cardinals helped the Hinsdale backfield chalk up 316 yards on the ground. Weaknesses in the secondary allowed quarterback Yort to complete 11 passes for 188 yards. The Arlington defense dropped six possible interceptions. Two passes were good for T.D.'s.

HINSDALE fullback Johnny Magda was practically unstoppable. He gained at will around the ends, setting up the first Hinsdale score, and romping 65 yards for the fourth tally. On 3 occasions long runs by Magda, one of them a touchdown jaunt, were called back by penalties.

The completeness of Arlington's defeat is shown by the fact the winners had to fight off a total of 120 yards of penalties. (Sp

Palatine Surprise Of Northwest In 1st Games

Palatine has been pointing all week for one of their toughest Northwest conference opponents of the season to be met at Grayslake Saturday afternoon. Grayslake has 15 lettermen from last season but lack of any backfield regulars from last season has slowed the Rams on offense. Right now, following their scoreless tie at Glenbrook, Grayslake ranks as the best defensive club in the circuit.

Pirates and Rams will tackle each other in a double header with the frosh-soph game starting at 12:30.

The Pirates have made surprising improvement in recent weeks. Fine spirit, hard work, excellent coaching, and a real desire to play winning football has made Palatine's record the surprise of the conference season to date. Palatine appeared to have lots of offense but many defensive weaknesses in the Wauconda game, but most of these were corrected and Friday against Fenton the Pirate defense was one of their strong points.

Wisner again gave evidence that given some blocking he can get away for a game breaking long gaining run. Bob Nordin who gained 86 of Palatine's 126 net yards rushing was the workhorse of the team against Fenton and is one of the hardest hitting backs in the league.

Dan Lemanski and Karl Schwenk with Don Teegan filling in make up the Palatine backfield. Palatine was outweighed in the line and will again be outweighed Saturday at Grayslake but in the two league games to date has outcharged their opponents. Saturday's game is likely to be one of the best of the season.

FENTON and Ela-Vernon, both suffering two league defeats, clash at Bensenville Friday night. Fenton appears to have a slight edge but Ela showed great improvement against Antioch who beat them in the final 18 seconds of play. Fenton's first league games at home will start at 6:30 with a frosh-soph game in which Fenton is rated a heavy favorite.

Travelers Win 4th In Row In 19-0 Tilt Over Delavan

Elmhurst Traveler football team posted their fourth consecutive win in the Bi-State Football league last Sunday by defeating the Delavan, Wis., Red Devils, 19-0 at the Fenton high field in Bensenville.

It was the first time the Travelers have won over Delavan. Previous to this game Delavan has defeated Elmhurst 4 times in the past 6 years, thus making the victory a very sweet and necessary one. The Traveler's victory over Delavan enabled them to keep pace with the strong Racine Raiders of Racine, Wis.

BOTH TEAMS now have a record of 4 wins and no defeats in Bi-State League play this year and next Sunday will bring together 2 of the finest teams in Bi-State league history. Both teams have fine defensive records, with Racine having scored 102 points against their opponents 27, while the Travelers are close behind with 87 points against their opponents 14.

However the Travelers are rated underdogs by teams that have met both clubs. Racine is rated the stranger on offense and is led by Rod Hermes at quarterback. Rod is 6' 3" and 210 pounds with a strong left arm that can rifle passes in every direction.

TWO OF THE finest halfbacks in the league, Sylvester Polk and George Straube are his running mates and they will make it a busy afternoon for the Travelers Sunday. Rod formerly quarterbacked Beloit college and has just returned from an 8-week tryout with the Green Bay Packers.

This is a must game for both clubs and will be played on the York high gridiron in Elmhurst. This will be the first game the Travelers will play on an Elmhurst gridiron in 6 years, having made Fenton high field their home during that time.

SUNDAYS GAME against Delavan found the Travelers drawing first blood in the first quarter. A 90 yard drive found Leon McRae going over center from the 3 yard line. Buzz Grady's try for the extra point was blocked.

The second quarter was uneventful and the half ended with the Travelers ahead 6-0.

In the third quarter Elmhurst came to life and Don Miller, Traveler left halfback went 29 yards around his own right end for the Travelers second score. Grady's try for the extra point was wide — score Travelers 12-Delavan 0.

AT THE STAR of the fourth AT TH ESTART of the fourth quarter Delavan was forced to kick to the Travelers and Hank Tiedemann returned to his 45 yard line. A series of passes found Don Busch scoring on a fine pass into the end zone from Buzz Grady. Grady kicked the extra point — score Travelers 19-Delavan 0.

The Travelers chalked up 14 first downs to Delavans and the local defense definitely proved that they can hold their own with anyone in the league by holding Delavans strong backs to a plus 4 yardage. Out of 16 passes by Delavan only 1 was completed while the Travelers completed 11 out of 22. (Sp

THREE OF FOUR Chicago-area players at Valparaiso university are members of the starting line-up while the fourth is a number 1 replacement at guard due to his outstanding defensive ability. They are (left to right): senior left guard Bob Cunningham of 441 Addison ave., Elmhurst; junior reserve guard Dick Melcher of 1340 W. 97th Place, Chicago; senior left tackle Stan Hauseman, 1205 Western ave., Northbrook; and left end Bob Ellenson of 9327 Claremont, Chicago. Cunningham, a returned serviceman, appears headed for his best season; Melcher has shaken off an injury jinx which plagued him his first two years and is a number 1 choice on defense; Hauseman kicks off for the Crusaders and sees double duty as a linebacker in addition to his tackle play; and Ellenson has already proven his worth with outstanding defensive play in the first 2 games. 'Old Hand' McKiever Leads NU 'New Order' To Victory

Northwestern university's "new order" in athletics made a successful debut Saturday but it was an old hand around Evanston and the university campus that sparked the Wildcat victory.

Bob McKeiver, a slip of a halfback who lives almost in the shadow of Dyche stadium, scored all the Wildcat points, led them in ground gaining, kicked off and punted in the 14-13 win over Iowa State.

As one press box wag commented, "McKeiver did everything except possibly sell peanuts between the halves."

THE 5-FOOT, 7-inch, 162 pound junior ran 22 times for 121 of Northwestern's 194 ground yards and a 5.5 rushing average. His two punts averaged 58 yards; one punt return was good for 29 yards and his two successful conversions spelled the difference between victory and and defeat.

Oh yes, McKeiver also kicked off three times.

Northwestern will seek to make it 2 straight when they face Tulane in an intersectional clash at Dyche stadium Saturday Oct. 6.

WITH PROSPECT that pre-season injuries will continue to keep running star Bob Mitchell out of action at Washington Saturday, Illinois Coach Ray Eliot has switched veteran Harry Jefferson from right to left halfback. Jefferson probably will be starter against the Huskies, pairing with senior Abe Woodson, to whom he yielded the first-team right halfback assignment just last week.

Two other changes were made in the first-team alignment following review by coaches of movies of Illinois' startling 32-20 comeback victory over California here last Saturday. Eliot moved Dick Nordmeyer, Tucson, Ariz., junior, from right tackle to left, and promoted him to the starting eleven. Gary Francis, Bloomington senior, was elevated to the first team right end position, replacing senior Charles Butler, Hot Springs, Ark. (Langston), who dropped to the second squad.

Antioch defeated Ela-Vernon last Saturday 13-7 by scoring the winning touchdown with 18 seconds remaining in the game. Both Antioch touchdowns were scored in the last quarter and were set up on passes from Earl Deppe to Jerry Huml. Dick Srch scored both Antioch touchdowns on runs of 4 and 6 yards and he also added an extra point.

Ela scored in the opening quarter on a 6 yard run by Irv Pohlman and Ralph Halvorsen kicked the extra point. Ela drove 80 yards immediately after but failed to score losing the ball on the six yard line on a fumble. Ela advanced to the Antioch 4 yard stripe in the third period but failed to tally. On one occasion Pohlman got away for a 72 yard run from his own end zone but was brought down from behind by Jerry Huml of Antioch, Charles Gilman, fullback, got away for a 52 yard run but was likewise brought down behind by the fleet footed Huml.

Antioch gained 204 yards rushing to Ela's 205 and 57 on passes to Ela's 53 which gives a good indication of how evenly the two teams played. Antioch won the frosh-soph game 26-0.

GRANT HAD a ground gaining edge on Wauconda Saturday night but dropped a 7-0 decision when a fumble on their own 18 in the last quarter led to their downfall. Bill Weinberg, Wauconda quarterback ran 13 yards to the five, and two plays later Ron Smith went over on a one yard plunge. Dale Garland ran for the extra point.

Grant had 11 first downs to Wauconda's 7 and 197 yards on the ground to Wauconda's 146. Bill Weinberg, Wauconda's ace passer had no completions while Grant gained 50 yards through the air. Weinberg and Paddock played best for Wauconda and Autschbach and Kennel for Grant. (SP

Hot Rod Clubs In Reliability Run This Sunday

Members of Palatine and Arlington Heights hot rod clubs will participate Sunday in a reliability run designed to promote safe and courteous driving.

The run will be a function of the newly-organized Midwest Timing association, a group founded with the help of several Palatine businessmen interested in encouraging highway safety among young drivers.

The run will start at the junction of Deerfield rd. and Skokie highway. Each driver and his co-pilot will be given a plotted course about 100 miles long and including all sorts of driving conditions.

CONTESTANTS must follow the course observing all traffic regulations and practising road courtesy. Officials will have previously established a standard time for each contestant's course and the contestant finishing his run in the time closest to the standard will win the competition.

Trophies will also be awarded for second and third places and to the most courteous and safe driver. Anyone breaking traffic rules during the run will be automatically disqualified.

Clubs in the event from Arlington Heights are the "Rebels," "Road Knights" and "Boltin' Bishops." Palatine clubs are the "Land Yachts" and the "Thunder Bolts." (Sp

Palatine Frosh Edge Fenton

by DICK GEISSLER

Fenton freshmen lost a close ball game to Palatine on the Bensenville field Saturday morning, 7-6.

The young Bisons missed their big chance when a kick went into the Palatine end zone with players of both sides looking at it. If a Fenton youth had fallen on the sphere it would have been a TD.

INSTEAD Palatine was chalked with a touchback and the ball moved out to the 20. The young Pirates, coached by Dick Gavigan, then racked up 3 first downs before a 20 yard pass, Bill Dietrict to Harve Foster with a 30 yd. dash by the latter giving Palatine its touchdown.

That 7-0 score held from the opening period clear to the final segment when Misicka went over from 3 yards out after a sustained Fenton drive.

STARTING lineup for the young Bisons had George Brown and Tom Olzewski at ends, G. Stellman and Gordon Remolo at tackles, Richard Jone and Ulrich at guards, and Bill Kortum at center. In the backfield were Kurt Middleton and Ken Spiroff alternating at quarter, Ron Panos and John Vitulli at the halves, and Gary Misicka at full. (SP

Catholic Charities Opens Office In Arlington Heights For Northwest Area

The Northwest Suburban office of the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago was opened today in the rectory of Our Lady of the Wayside church, 411 S. Walnut st., Arlington Heights, under the direction of Miss Mary Duggan.

The establishment of this office, the second of its kind in the metropolitan area, extends the services of the Catholic Charities social agencies to Arlington Heights, Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Palatine and Barrington.

Catholic Charities operates a great network of agencies and institutions throughout Cook and Lake counties. Many of these agencies are the oldest of their kind in the Chicago area, many are the biggest, and many provide services unavailable elsewhere in the community.

The whole community benefits from Catholic Charities' extensive services. In several instances, a Catholic agency is the only community facility offering a certain service, and these services are available to all, regardless of creed. Furthermore a huge tax burden is lifted from all citizens by the very existence of these many catholic agencies. In addition, tens of thousands of children are raised as good citiizens who might otherwise have lapsed into delinquency. The range of special services created in recent years by Catholic Charities is now available to hundreds of thousands of children and adults in metropolitan Chicago. Many non-Catholics benefit from these services.

AN INDICATION of the scope of Catholic Charities is a brief analysis of its income and the use to which the income was put in 1955. During the past calendar year Catholic Charities received nearly eight and three-quarter million dollars — 30 per cent from contributions, 30 per cent from responsible relatives, 27 per cent from public funds, 13 per cent from the Community Fund of Chicago. Forty-one per cent of this money was expended for full-time child care, 23 per cent for care of the aged, 21 per cent for family care, 8 per cent for part-time child care, 5 per cent for special services, and just over 1 per cent for administration, fund-raising, supervision and planning.

In short, 99 cents out of every dollar received went directly for aid to those in need. So phenomenally efficient a use of money is possible, of course, because of the dedicated, contributed labor of more than 600 priests and nuns.

This, then is the organization which is making its services more readily available to the northwest suburbs of Chicago.

ESTABLISHMENT of the Catholic Charities office at Our Lady of the Wayside church opens a long list of services to the needy under two major headings.

Under the heading of family care, these are the available services:

1. Temporary financial assistance in cooperation with the St. Vincent De Paul Society.
2. Assistance to the family or the individual requiring long time financial assistance to apply through Township Supervisor for direct relief or through the local office of the County Welfare Department for:
   a. Aid to dependent children

3. Assistance to eligible persons or couples to secure Social Security

   b. Survivor's benefits.
4. Advice to eilbile veterans in need regarding the possibilities of Veteran's benefits.
5. Arrangement of State rehabilitation program for physically handicapped persons over 16 years of age.
6. Processing of applications of the aged for care in Catholic homes for the aged.
7. Arrangement of the burial of poor persons in cooperation with Catholic cemeteries.
8. Arrangement of complete prenatal, confinement, and postnatal care for unmarried mothers and assistance in planning for the future of the mother and child.
9. Arrangement for rehabilitation of alcoholics in cooperation with Alcoholics Anonymous.
10. Counseling and case-work services for families beset with

    a. Commitment of mentally ill to a state institution
    b. Application for care for a tuberculosis victim to the County Tuberculosis Santarium.
    c. Medical care of persons having a rare disease to Illinois Research Hospital.
12. Advice and counsel to all who inquire as to services not listed here.
13. Arrangement for spiritual guidance for the adult deaf.

Under the heading of child care, these are the availiable services:

1. Advice on procedure for temporary placement of children whose mother is ill or temporarily incapable of caring for them.
2. Advice on procedure for long-time care of children.
   a. Children whose mother is physically, mentally, or morally incapable of caring for them;
   a. Children whose parents willfully neglect them;
   c. Children who are mentally retarded;
   d. Children who are delinquent;
   e. Children, from the age of 1 month to 3 years, who are mentally deficient, microcephaletic, hydrocephaletic, or spinal bifidas.
5. Arrangement for the testing and teaching of children in need of remedial reading.
4. Arrangement for the education of blind and deaf children.
5. Arrangement for the education of hard-of-hearing and vision-handicapped children.
6. Arrangement for parent education of blind and deaf children.
7. Arrangement for the testing of and recommendations for children with educational problems.
8. Psychiatric testing and care for children with serious emotional problems.

MISS DUGGAN, the director of the new Northwest Suburban office of the Catholic Charities, is an experienced professional social worker, beginning her career in 1938 after taking degrees from De Paul university and Loyola university. She joined the Catholic Charities staff in 1951, on which she became the supervisor of case work. Just recently she was appointed director of the suburban offices of the Catholic Charities by Msgr. Vincent Cooke, archdiocesan supervisor of charities.

In the beginning Miss Duggan will be on duty every Thursday from 9 until 5 o'clock, but this time will be increased as the need increases.

Office facilities and the full cooperation of Our Lady of the Wayside church were extended to this major new social service agency by the Reverend Harold T. O'Hara, pastor. The widest possible dissemination of information about the new office has been urged by Father O'Hara.

Housewives Must File Social Security Forms On He'p In October

Social security reports are due in October from those who employ domestic help, the northwest district social security office reminded local housewives this week.

Housewives must make these reports in October on household workers paid as much as $50 in cash wages during July, August and September. These social security reports are required by law and are due every 3 months. Failure to file timely returns may subject the employer to penalties and interest charges.

Each return must include the names and social security numbers of all employees, the amounts of wages paid to them and remittance of the tax due. Any employer who has not yet received a social security tax form should communicate with the office of the director of internal revenue.

Free booklets explaining the employer's obligation and benefits to the employee are available at the northwest district social security office located at 4255 Milwaukee ave. The phone number is Spring 7-3413. (G

Is Hitler Still Alive? Many Germans Think So

by BILL DILLINGHAM

(Bill Dillingham writes his observations of world events each week for Paddock Publications. Currently, he is in Germany.)

It Hitler still alive? Many Germans think so. Some even make a business of the question.

All over West Germany it is possible to buy phonograph records bearing a voice alleged to be Hitler's. Too risky just yet to make a personal appearance, record sources say that Hitler is using this means to speak to followers. It is said that he will emerge from his hiding place when conditions are more favorable.

The ordinary edition of these Hitler records costs twenty marks (about 4 dollars), and the deluxe edition, containing old Nazi hymns, just double that price.

Many people consider this a mere selling stunt. Many others fully believe they are listening to the genuine voice of Adolf the leader.

One record, the first, says: "I continue living, in good health and near to you all. Shortly you will hear my voice again, but for the moment I want to say that the traitors to our country, already found in both East and West, will be severely punished when our country regains its true independence and national dignity."

IRRITATED, the Bonn Government has labeled the entire business a fraud.

Photographs, too, of Hitler can be bought in most of the cities throughout Germany. The latest is a signed series dated 1955. Adolf appears to have a sun tan in one such set.

Aside from the commercial angle of selling photographs and records, certain German interests hope that these tactics will aid the cause of Nazism. Numerous organizations have spring up during the last few years supporting the Hitler ideals. Records of the former chief's voice is exactly the kind of material appealing to many followers.

SOME PEOPLE claim to have spoken it Hitler, others claim to know his whereabouts, and a few have even announced that they have been appointed temporary successors in his absence. None, yet, have produced proof of their claims.

A newly-created magazine in Germany, trying to stir interest, was stopped from running an issue which was scheduled to contain a long statement by Hitler himself, photo included.

Several other small periodicals have attempted to set themselves up as the official and exclusive spokesmen for Adolf Hitler inhiding.

Authorities, however, restrain them under a code of laws presently existing in Germany which suppresses Nazism.

But Hitler, dead or alive, still helps business. (B10

NEEDLE IN THE GROOVE

New 'Vagabond' Designed To Stir Happy Memories

by PAUL LITTLE

Victor's new 12-inch platter (LM-2004), "The Vagabond King," will rouse happy memories.

Your critic, when a boy, used to irritate neighbors by singing in a loud off-pitch voice the rousing "Song of the Vagabonds" at least a hundred times a week.

And we think many of you remember fondly the lovely melody of "Only a Rose", and "Some Day."

Rudolf Friml composed this great musical which Dennis King made famous on Broadway in the role of the baggar-thief-poet Francois Villon who saved France from the unscrupulously ambitious Duke of Burgundy.

Now Paramount has made it into a VistaVision film with Kathryn Grayson as the Lady Catherine whose hand Villon wins, with new songs by Johnny Burke and Friml including "Vive La You," "Love Me Tonight," "This Same Heart" and "The Scotch Archers' Song."

The disc features Oreste, a brilliant, handsome young tenor born on the island of Malta who began his singing career in the caves of Malta to entertain the townspeople forced to hide there during the bombings by the Nazis and Italians. Coming to sing at the Royal Opera House of Covent Garden, Oreste was signed to a movie contract.

His voice is warm, pleasing, he has superb diction and feeling. Jean Fenn, lovely young "Met" soprano, sings the role of Catherine. Henri Rene directs the orchestra. We think you'll play this hi-fi platter over time and again!

ON SEPTEMBER 15 of this year, Dr. Bruno Walter reached his 80th birthday.

This genius of orchestral interpretation is one of the world's supreme musicians. Columbia celebrates this happy anniversary with a sublime 12-inch discing (ML-5012) of the Mozart Requiem Mass in D Minor which Dr. Walter conducts with the New York Philharmonic Symphony and such superb soloists as Irmgard Seefried, Leopold Simoneau, Jennie Tourel and the great young American negro basso William Warfield.

Mozart died before he completed this tremendous masterpiece, and his pupil Sussmayer finished it. There is legend that a masked stranger ordered the Requiem, and Mozart was convinced it symbolized his own death knell. Regardless of that, this expression of faith and humility is gloriously moving. Dr. Walter's penetrating reading delineates every facet of this beautiful, reverential music.

ON A 12-INCH "sampler" (priced at only $1.98), Columbia offers "The Sound of Genius: Bruno Walter."

A happy introduction indeed this will be to those not familiar with his supreme musicianship. He directs the Columbia Symphony in the lilting "Blue Danube Waltz" by Johann Strauss Jr.; the "Entr'acte No. 2" from Schubert's "Rosamunde"; and the Philharmonic Symphony in a thrilling performance of the Beethoven "Egmont" Overture and the third movement from his incomparable reading of Mahler's First Symphony. Beautiful sound!

We are grateful to hi-fi for enabling us to hear music like this with such clarity and reality; discs and tapes perpetuate memorable performances like Dr. Walter's! (G

If Lived Optimistically Life Is Richer, Fuller

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"I'll cry tomorrow," is a wise decision; for often the tears we feel like shedding today are forgotten when tomorrow brings the happiness we can not foresee today.

Too many of us look forward to pleasure in some distant time and overlook the joys and opportunities for happiness which surround us every day. To worry about expected misfortunes in the future can spoil the happiness which is ours today; and to brood about misfortunes in the past can do the same thing.

TODAY WE HAVE. The whole of what has gone before in our lives is past, and should be dead to our minds and hearts. Tomorrow we know nothing about, and the plans we have for then may well have to be abandoned in the new circumstances that have come with the new day.

Today we have; and we should make the most of it. We should enjoy the sunlight, shining through the green trees, the blue heavens above, the song of birds.

We should enjoy the work we are doing now, and take pleasure in accomplishing it well.

It is surprising the number of things we feared in the future which do not materialize because we have done our work well today.

Completely absorbed in what we are doing now, what we see, hear and feel now, we do not miss the pleasures of this day and so have them forever.

Completely absorbed in the dread of what might happen and the remorse and regret of what has happened, we lose the joy of each day as it comes along.

TODAY WE HAVE; why not then this day make the most of our friends, our home, our children, our spiritual meditation when we talk with God? Why not seek, and expect, beauty, love and goodness today?

Today we have. Yesterday is dead. Tomorrow is not born. Let us live today in peace and happiness and freedom from fear or remorse.

Bulging Suburban Schools Are Faced With Empty Pockets, Unanswered Pleas

THURSDAY, OCT. 4, 1956

Wanted: an Aladdin for suburbia.

Civic officials, educational leaders, parents and taxpayers agree it will take the magic of an Aladdin to rescue suburbs from a school dilemma which grows more critical each year.

The problem is simple: the incredible suburban real estate and building boom has already choked from high post-war birth rates.

Schools need more room and they need more teachers.

BUT WHERE is the money to come from?

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, reports that most suburban school districts will use up 90 per cent or more of their bonding power this fall.

Too many real estate developers and builders turn their heads the other way when hard-pressed districts beg for help—and the courts have thus far not supported the school district in their attempt to compel builders to make donations for schools.

ALTHOUGH state aid for downstate Illinois schools has increased, suburban school districts are still desperately in need of assistance, and the governor vetoed a bill in the last legislative session which would have established a revolving school construction fund that suburban schools could have borrowed from.

Cook county suburban schools opened their doors this fall to 11 per cent more grade school and 15 per cent high school students to bring total suburban enrollments well over 200,000—an all-time record peak.

Although 450 new elementary classrooms have been built at a cost of $12,151,000 this year, there are still districts forced to house pupils in 32 rented and 139 temporary classrooms.

OVER-CROWDING will compel nearly 10,000 pupils of 273 classes to attend school only half a day.

There are 78 classes in suburban Cook county with enrollments of more than 40 pupils although state standards insist enrollments over 35 lower the level of education provided.

Palatine school district has 51 classes on half-day sessions and 9 rented or temporary rooms.

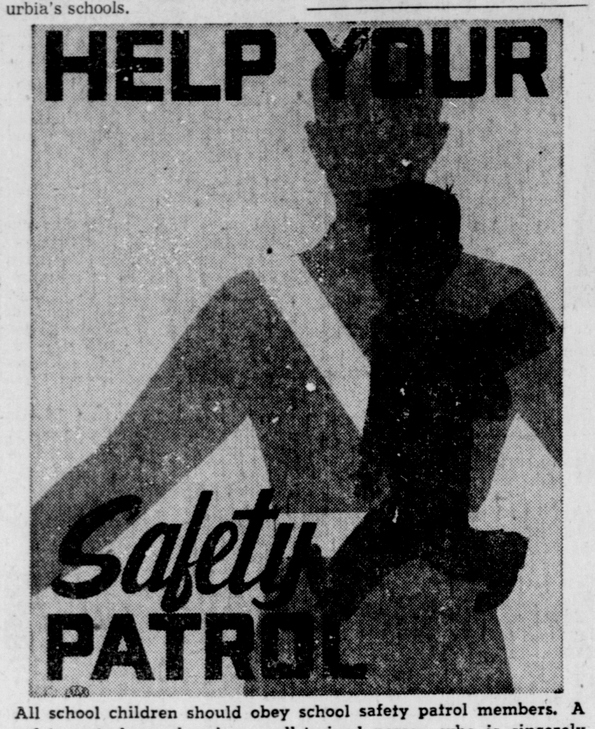
WHEELING school, facing possible bankruptcy in February unless some financial miracle occurs, is the worst off in the state. Efforts to get emergency assistance from state and federal agencies have failed.

With peak enrollments deluging Arlington Heights grade schools, the district was forced to initiate 20 half-day sessions until new rooms can be built and put in use.

Educational tax rates have been pressed to the maximum. Assessments have been pushed upward, creating real estate tax es which in some cases can be d e s c r i b e d as "phenomenal." Bond issues have been passed and passed again by voters.

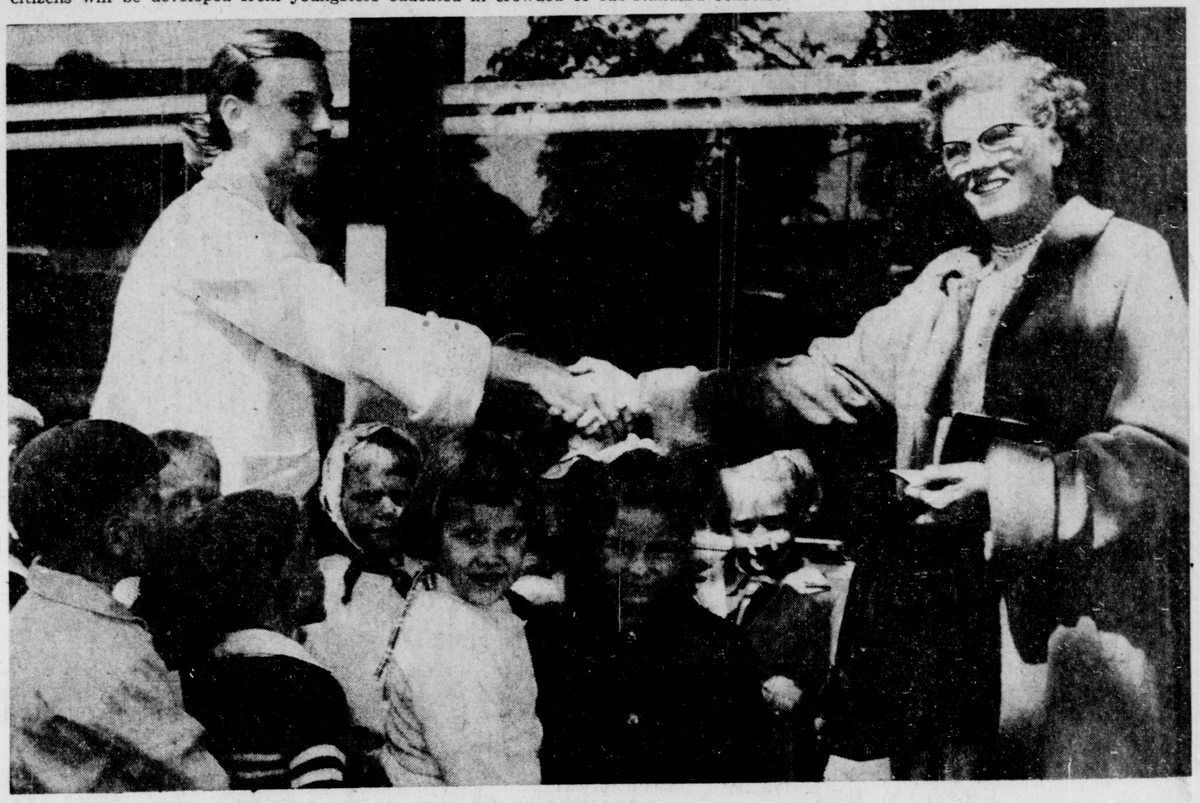
AND STILL the schools grow and still they are over-crowded and still the dilemma is unanswered.

Needed: that Aladdin for suburbia's schools.

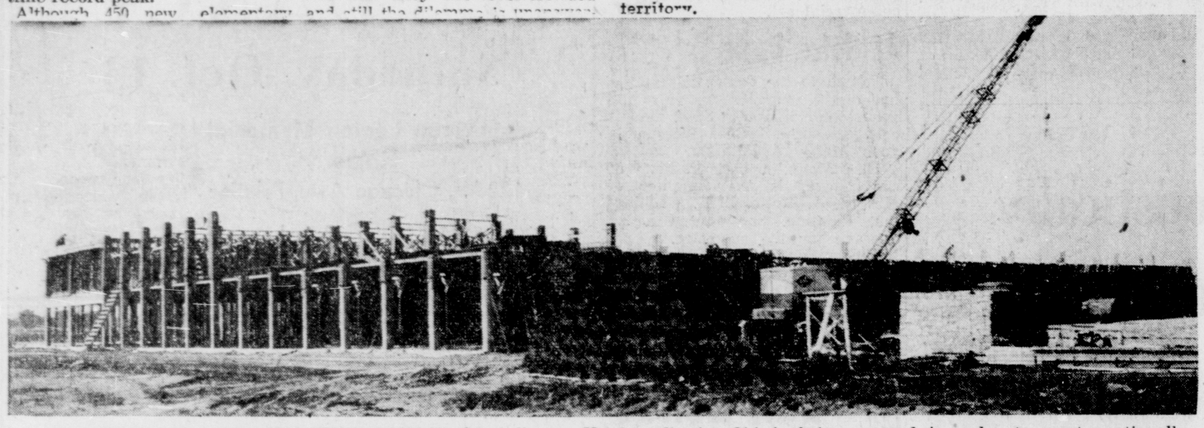


All school children should obey school safety patrol members. A safety patrol member is a well-trained person who is sincerely interested in the safety of all school children. However, the patrol member can only do a good job if he receives the cooperation of all students. This is the message contained in the Chicago Motor Club's safety poster which has been distributed to 44,000 elementary school classrooms throughout the Club's Illinois and Indiana territory.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL in Rolling Meadows presented a busy, gay picture. But parents and educators are concerned what kind of citizens will be developed from youngsters educated in crowded or sub-standard schools?



THE SUBURBAN SCHOOL crisis is the top election issue in this area. Campaigning for the 13th district congressional seat, Helen Benson Leys has made school aid her prime issue. She greets Mrs. Richard Yohe of Rolling Meadows school during a recent visit.

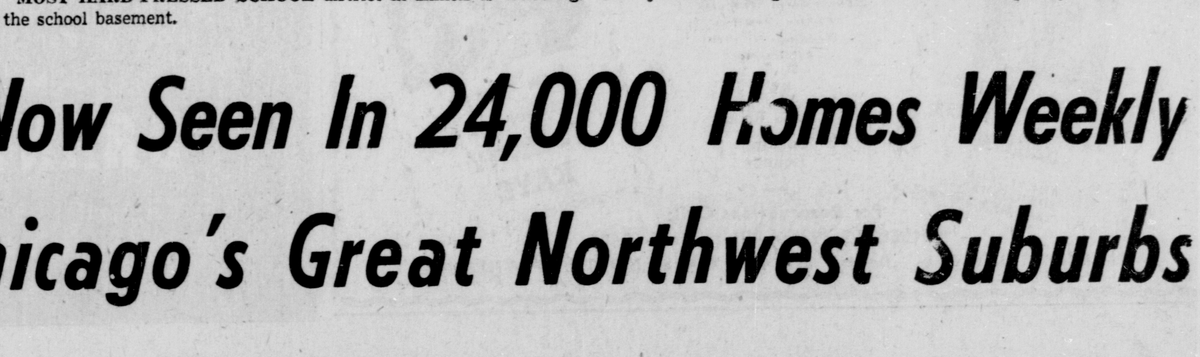


CONSTRUCTION ON A SECOND HIGH SCHOOL for Arlington Heights district 214 is being pressed in order to meet continually rolling enrollments. The present building serves 2,300 students with new increases expected in 1957. The new Prospect high school

AMONG 9 TEMPORARY CLASSROOMS used by Palatine school district is this class which meets in the basement of the Northwest Suburbs Bible church.

AT BEST, TEACHING IS DIFFICULT even with modern, up to date facilities. That's why suburbanites are disturbed when schools are forced to place pupils in temporary facilities such as this rented room in a Palatine church basement.

IN ORDER TO PROVIDE A KINDERGARTEN for the youngsters of Prospect Heights, the school district rented the basement of the Baptist church.



MOST HARD-PRESSED SCHOOL district in Illinois is Wheeling. This jammed fifth grade class meets in a temporary classroom in the school basement.

Q. I know it is not a "must," but if a girl wishes to give her fiancee an engagement gift, what should it be?

A. Usually some piece of jewelry —cuff links, key chain, tie clasp, or a cigarette case or lighter.

Arlington Girl Visits Famed European Salons

A lovely dark-haired Arlington Heights young woman, who is an assistant buyer for a large Chicago department store, returned here in mid-September from a 6-week European tour, during which she visited several well-known continental dress salons.

"I could have bought a gorgeous pink silk raincoat for $90 at Dior's boutique," said Ida Miller, who makes her home with her parents at 230 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, "but I guess my interest was heightened because it was raining." "A boutique," Miss Miller explained later," is a shop which is part of the designer's salon, in which patrons may purchase items.")

This attractive miss, pictured above with her French poodle, Joli, was wearing a black-felt skirt and white tailored cashmere sweater. The sweater came from London and was unusual because of its shirt-waist appearance and smart styling. It was fashioned with tucks on either side of the front and was completed with a small high round collar and tiny bow-tie. She also wore a silver Florentine bracelet which carried many stone-set charms. Joli is "inspecting" his gift from abroad, a small rubber replica of the Eiffel tower.

ALTHOUGH HER trip was not "sponsored" by the Charles A. Stevens Co. where she has been employed for the past 2 years, officers and other buyers of the company watched her experiences with a great deal of interest and "blessing." Accompanying her was her friend, Miss Sharon Mayhall of Chicago, who is an associate-buyer at Mandel Brothers.

"Our first touch of European shops was in Madrid," she continued, "where we found clothes to be less expensive than in any other country. Perhaps this is because the standards of living are lower there. But you should see their

(Continued from preceding page) very largest department store — wooden floors, very little merchandise and very few interpreters in the entire place. Actually it looked like the sale of the year in some bargain basement.'

However, Miss Miller and her friend found the smaller shops carried lovely "show" dresses, that is they displayed one in the window and had no more in stock. But they were anxious to take measurements for any style, and with a corps of seamstresses, promised delivery in 2 days.

"A breath-taking dark grey lace over light grey taffeta, street-length gown, with low-cut neckline was being shown in one of the smaller shops and was priced at $80," she continued, "and I doubt if you could touch it in this country for twice as much."

MISS MILLER, a graduate of Arlington Heights high school and the University of Illinois with a major in English, and her friend stopped next in Rome, but they were disappointed there because many of the salons close for the month of August. However both young women hoped to find some cottons to enhance their wardrobes and to help combat the heat in Southern Italy. After much searching, Miss Miller did find a very attractive red cotton skirt, but it was the only one in stock and equivalent to a size 18.

With eyes sparkling, Miss Miller related that some 1½ hours later she had finally "gotten across" to the Italian saleslady who also spoke French, just how much she wanted it taken in — for she wears a trim size 12. The next morning the skirt, which cost $11 and which she considered a little higher priced than similar skirts in this country, was delivered to her hotel. The cost for alterations, which must have been extensive, was absolutely nothing.

"NEXT WE headed for the cultural spot of Italy, Florence, which is inhabited by very proud people," she said. "Here they make the world-famous Florentine-wear, such as lovely pieces of jewelry, art treasures, linens, silver and leather goods. We found their silver jewelry to be relatively inexpensive and people come there from all over Europe because everything they make is sold right there and nowhere else. There probably are a few outlets in the United States, but that is all."

For proof, Miss Miller displayed a lovely silver blacelet and earring set that was of exquisite design and workmanship which she had purchased for her mother. She also had an unusual black leather belt with an inserted colored leather design that one of the large leather shops made up for her overnight. As was also true in Rome, the shops in Florence did not carry a large amount of stock, making it difficult to buy just what was needed on sight.

"OUR NEXT STOP? Paris! The salons came up to every expectation," she continued, "with Dior's probably the most majestic-looking. Actually the rugs were so very thick that we felt that we could hardly make our feet move."

When pressed for other details regarding this world-famous designer's so-called work-shop, she mentioned the silk drapes and brocades that lined the walls and the lovely period style furnishings. The chandeliers were also very majestic. No modern interior decorating trends have invaded the Dior headquarters!

Soon after their arrival in the world-famous style center, Miss Miller and her friend called for appointments at the various salons, as it is necessary to make such connections several days in advance. The Paris dailies print complete schedules of which fashion designers are showing each day of the week. Once in the salons, they had to show their identifications and then they settled back for 1½ hours of possibly one of the most beautiful style shows ever staged. The models in each salon were exquisitely beautiful, and at each salon they found the clothing to be ultra-expensive and so were hesitant to make too many inquiries regarding prices.

"Jean Patou also had a show every afternoon," she continued, "and his salon was very lovely but not so elaborate as Dior's. We were grateful that the narrators describing the costumes spoke in 3 languages — French, Italian and English. At Patou's showing we saw some gorgeous ensembles in wool—dress, jacket, that when worn transformed the costume into a suit and matching full-length coat. He was also showing lots of tweeds in coats and ensembles and many were in brilliant blues and aquas."

BLACK SEEMED to be the prediminant color for this fall according to Paris trends and also the emphasis was on bulky hats. Often the models were wearing dresses with hats made of the same fabrics.

"At the Patou showing," Miss Miller continued, "some of the models appeared in lovely full-length minks, and after removing the furs and showing the dresses, they dragged the minks behind them as they left the show rooms. It seemed to us to be the ultra in something or other," she declared.

In Dior's "boutique," she said, "They were displaying many party clothes that day, brocades and satins for afternoon and evening. There were also some low-necked cardigans and bulky knit sweaters too."

In regard to expenses in France, she mentioned that the Paris night-life was very lavish and the costs seemed to run about the same as in this country or perhaps somewhat higher. The only items she found to be less in price were the perfumes, gloves, leather and beaded bags.

THEIR LAST week was spent in London where they felt more at home, for the stores, as well as living habits of the peoples, were much more like our own. They were interested in the stores carrying the "seal of the royal crest," which is a mark of distinction given to stores patronized by the royal family. They noticed that some men's furnishings stores had the crest and indicated that the Duke of Edinburgh did his personal shopping there.

"Men's wear is outstanding in London," she said, "with such items as ties being of the finest quality. Of course woolen goods is "their" speciality, and the cashmere sweaters are lovely and much cheaper than we can find them here."

While their trip is now a thing of the past, the memories will always remain with them, not only because of their fairy-land experiences, but because of their first-hand information regarding fabrics, designs, and some of the behind-the-scene activity that undoubtedly makes dressmaking the trade it is today.

Favorites For Flavor

Here is a tempting and tasty method to utilize left-over roast pork. Beef prices being what they are, roast pork is one of our best buys, and Mrs. Frederick R. Hodgkinson's recipe is one you'll want to try.

This recipe is even better made the day before it is to be served. The flavors mingle and the ingredients tenderize the meat. It need only be re-heated and spooned onto warm buns.

For a midnight snack, Mrs. Hodgkinson serves it with relishes, or perhaps cold slaw or potato salad. She has served the Barbecued Pork for buffet suppers, accompanied by baked beans and a molded jello salad.

This delicious pork is nice, too, for backyard picnics, and children love its sweet, savory flavor.

The Hodgkinsons have two children: Bob, who is 6, and Tom 4½. They moved 2 years ago from Lincolnwood to their home at 710 S. Beverley in Arlington Heights.

Barbecued Pork

2 cups diced, cooked pork
1 cup catsup
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup vinegar
1 tblsp. Worcestershire sauce.

Trim fat from pork. Cut into cubes.

Combine remaining ingredients. Add meat and heat to serving point.

The flavor of this dish is improved when made a day in advance. Heat all ingredients together and when cool refrigerate.

Just re-heat when ready to serve and spoon onto warm buns.

Serves 4.

Q. Would it be proper to insert an announcement in our local newspaper of a broken engagement?

Yes, if an announcement of the engagement was made in that paper. A proper announcement could reach something like this: "Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Gibson announce that by mutual consent the engagement between their daughter, Mary Ellen, and Mr. Thomas J. Fox is at an end."

Q. When a mourning band is worn on the sleeve, how wide should it be?

A. It should be from 3½ to 4½ inches wide, and made of dull serge or broadcloth.

Q. Is one always supposed to examine the various dishes on a cafeteria counter before selecting a certain dish?

A. Certainly. But one should not finger the saucers, or be conspicuous about selecting one that seems to contain a larger portion than the others.

Q. Is one always supposed to send a gift to the hostess in whose home one has spent a weekend?

A. This is not absolutely necessary, although it is a nice gesture, however, is a "must," and as soon as possible after the return nome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

God's healing and redemptive power will be emphasized in Christian Science services Sunday, October 7.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (472.24-30): "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (67:1,2): "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

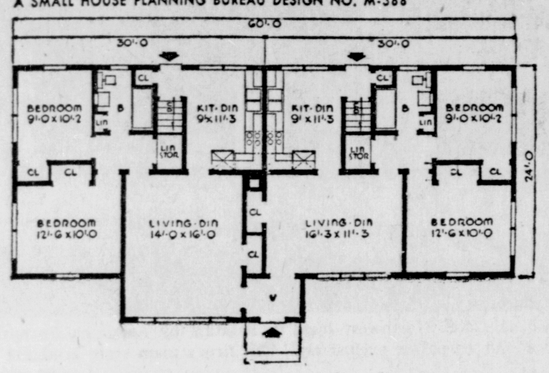
A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. M-388



DESIGN M-388. From its exterior this does not appear to be a duplex, because of its common front vestibule; it would not be conspicuous in a residential neighborhood.

Each apartment contains living room, combination kitchen-dinette, two bedrooms, bath and separate rear entry and stairs to basement.

The arrangement is compact and economical to build, and should be ideal for the small family which likes the income features of the additional apartment.

Exterior lines are low, with hip roof, wide overhanging eaves; finished with wide siding. Floor area is 1550 sq. ft. and cubage is 28,675 cu. ft.

For further information about DESIGN M-388, write to the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. (DL

Disabled Vets Can Receive Help On 'Wheelchair Homes'

More than 325 seriously disabled Illinois veterans have received federal grants totaling more than $3,184,060.34 for "wheel chair homes." As of August 1956, some 533 Illinois vets who cannot get about without the aid of wheelchairs, crutches, braces, or the like had established their eligibility for these special grants. Of these, 325 already have received grants and either have moved into their homes or are in the process of building them. The remainder have not yet put their plans into effect.

VA defrays 50 percent of the cost of "wheelchair homes" for eligible veterans up to a maximum of $10,000 under grants which were first authorized in 1948. The average grant is $9,800. (WUS

Here Are Top Ten Rackets Out To Fleece Your Dough

Slick schemes to fleece you of your dollars account for almost 3 per cent of all business, say the editors of Changing Times magazine.

Loud and successful, there are 10 types of deals most prevalent at the moment.

The 10 you should watch out for are bait ads, fictitious list and comparative price ads; unsound earn-money-at-home schemes; high-pressure home-improvement schemes; questionable franchise deals, especially in vending machines; dishonest debt adjusters; questionable coupon book deals and fly-by-night cemetery lot promotions.

THESE DEALS often fool intelligent people.

If you've ever fallen for one you may have made one of these common mistakes: You thought you could get something for nothing or believed merchandise could actually be bought at wholesale prices in a retail store; perhaps you thought yourself bargain-wise and sought out the most sensational offer; maybe you bought just to rid yourself of a pesky salesman or invested before checking up on the promoter; if you signed a contract you may have failed to read it thoroughly, missed the small type concerning "free" offers, or didn't even read it at all.

Beams Bank: Business Boom Makes Dollars Work Harder

Money is changing hands at an increasingly rapid rate, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

The "Turnover" of money, as measured by checking account transactions, picked up 16 per cent since early 1954.

THE BANK says that changes in the rate of money use tend to mirror movements in over-all business activity.

When business is improving, firms use their funds more intensively.

"Idle" balances are activated to finance additional inventories or expand outlays for factories and machinery.

Consumers, too, when jobs are plentiful, may be less concerned about financial reserves and boost their purchases, either by dipping into savings or going into debt.

IN 1955, the bank says, each dollar of consumer, business and state and local government deposits in banks outside the major financial centers changed hands 20 times.

Outlays for consumer goods and services accounted for 2½ of the 20 times this money was spent.

Payments for manufacturing, processing and marketing of the nation's output accounted for an additional 7 of the 20 times deposits turned over. About half of the turnover went for purchases of stocks or bonds, real estate and other property transfers.

Credit extended as well as the repayment of debt by business and consumers multiplies the use of demand deposits. Last year, for example, consumers alone spent $50 billion to meet payments on mortgages and installment debt.

MONEY TURNOVER has increased more rapidly than the actual physical stock of money in recent years and has been a major "source of funds" supporting the nation's high level of spending.

In fact, the Federal Reserve System has acted to forestall a substantial increase in the stock of money in an attempt to prevent excessive upward price pressure.

Of course, the bank adds, in less buoyant times a fall in the rate of money use could well require System effort to expand the stock of money in order to encourage more spending.

WHILE THE Federal Reserve compiles figures on the turnover of demand deposits, no information is available on the use of coin and paper money. Payment by check, however, has become the typical method by which business and government and many individuals settle their bills.

Currently, it is estimated that less than 10 per cent of the dollar volume of all transactions involves the use of "pocketbook" money.

First Female Worker Is Honored For 25th Year

Congratulations are in order for Esther Anderson, 119 S. George st., Mt. Prospect, who recently received a lovely engraved wrist watch in honor of her 25th service anniversary with Illinois Tool Works, 2501 N. Keeler ave., Chicago.

Esther is presently working in the sales department although her career with the company began when she was the only girl in the company's Shakeproof division, now expanded into 2 of the company's major divisions in Elgin and Des Plaines.

WIDOWED after 5 years of marriage and left with 2 sons Verner, 4, and Kenneth 2, it was a big job raising the boys, keeping house and working full time.

But Esther feels proud today when she sees her youngsters grown up into men — Verner now a design engineer and Kenneth an auto insurance adjuster — and the greatest pride of all — 2 healthy grandsons, John Randolph, 14 months, and Jeffrey Dean, 13 months.

Born in Chicago and a West Rogers Park resident for 24 years, she often thought about moving to the suburbs. This year she moved to Mt. Prospect. (BB

It's Apple Time Again At Mossley Hill

John Bell reports that "apple pickin' time" has arrived again for Mossley Hill Orchards, located at the intersection of state rte. 22 and U.S. 12.

The orchard, which extends from the edge of Lake Zurich almost a mile towards Barrington, is rated the largest commercial enterprise of its kind in the Chicagoland area. It recently received a state award for the quality of its fruit and the clean condition of the orchard.

Over 5,000 bearing trees, including popular varieties such as Jonathans, MacIntosh, Red Delicious and Golden Delicious, are now in full harvest on the orchard's vast acreage, according to Mr. Bell. (BB

Meat Cleaver On Way Out At Markets

It seems nothing is sacred in the onrush of modern mechanization. Latest victim in this tide of moderization is the trusty, time honored cleaver which for centuries has been considered the butcher's best friend, proud symbol of meat cutting skill and indispensible tool in any self respecting meat market.

Now, barred from markets, outmoded, inefficient, branded as a hazard, labeled safety enemy No. 1, and banished from service in disgrace, the last meat cleaver in Jewel Markets is headed for the scrap pile.

COMPLETELY replaced in all traditional market jobs by the speed and muscle of the power saw, the infrequent use of the cleaver has been limited to "opening wire-bound boxes," "trenching" tender patties and "flattening cods."

In a recent study of accidents, the safety committee found that in such menial jobs, the cleaver is not only awkward and inefficient, but becomes a treacherous enemy of the market man instead of a friend. "A cleaver accident is never 'minor'." With skill born of constant use, the cleaver was fine for cutting chops, but it can't compare with the speed ease and efficiency of the power saw. For opening boxes, a pair of pliers is faster, safer and easier. An aluminum mallet has been especially designed for frenching tender patties and flattening cods.

So, the sad case of the meat cleaver was carefully weighed by the safety committee jury with the solumn verdict of "No cleavers in Jewel Markets." (BB UNDERNEATH A BANANA TREE, Mr. and Mrs. George Orth Sr. pose in Lauderdale by the Sea, Fla. where they spent 3 weeks during their recent 2-month 10,000 mile tour. Mr. Orth enjoyed deep sea fishing in Florida before the couple left the southern state via the southern coast and proceeded westward and stopping at Yosemite park, Hoover dam, Grand Canyon and Rocky Mountain and Estes national parks. After encountering snow and 24 degree temperature atop mountain peaks, they went on to Oakland and San Francisco. The Orths visited with the Mar Johnsons of Florida and the Henry Gaares of California, former residents of Arlington Heights, who sent best wishes to their friends "at home." The Orths returned to their home at 614 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, September 24. (S

Many New Body Styles For Ford Fete Parade

Ford's 1957 line introduces 19 entirely new body styles in five series, and features three different body sizes on two redesinged chassis lengths.

The "hardtop convertible" styling formerly available only in Ford's Victoria models set the trend for design of all the closed bodies in the new Fairlane 500 and Fairlane series. Stylists slimmed down the center pillars and top silhouettes of conventional 2-door and 4-door models, with the result that when the doors are closed, they have virtually the same outside appearance as the popular pillarless types.

THE BIGGEST Ford body — more than 9 inches longer and 4 inches lower than 1956 models — is available in the Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series.

There are 5 models in the Fairlane 500 series, which is Ford's top line. They are the thin pillar 2-door club sedan, the thin pillar 4-door town sedan, the 2-door club Victoria and 4-door town Victoria hardtops, and the Sunliner convertible. (BB

Quaker Oats To Hold Open House

Scientists of the Quaker Oats company will be busy during the next 2 weeks preparing for an open house at the company's new John Stuart research laboratories, located in Barrington on west Main Street.

On Friday, Oct. 19, the new research center will be open to the Barrington community and people in the surrounding area. The public is invited. The doors will be open at 1 p.m., and visitors will be admitted until 9:30 p.m.

Dr. F. N. Peters, vice president of research, has announced that special exhibits are being constructed to explain the workings of the laboratories. The head of the research center said that displays will be devoted to four major fields of research; human nutrition, pet nutrition, livestock and poultry nutrition, and chemicals.

During the tour of the laboratories, visitors will see the most modern test kitchens where foods are evaluated. In the cereals pilot plant, visitors will see small-scaled operations connected with the manufacture of several cereals, including flakes, puffed goods, and Muffets shredded wheat. (BB

It meets from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., starting on September 24 and closing November 19. Male Trees Best When Planting Exotic Ginkgoes

Sometimes the fruits of amity go to seed — if the seeds produce offensive tree citizens.

At least that's the case with a group of Queens home owners in New York City, who have urged city fathers not to plant ginkgo gift seeds presented by well-meaning Japanese citizens. Their section already is well planted with ginkgoes and they are not at all happy about it. The fruits dropped in early Fall have a decidedly unpleasant odor that permeates the entire neighborhood.

The Queens home owners have a point, but not all ginkgoes are obnoxious neighbors, points out J. L. Heston, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. The solution is to obtain male trees from nurseries.

Ginkgoes are unisexual — that is, male and female blossoms are borne on separate trees. If grown from seeds, it is impossible to tell the male from the female until the trees finally start to bear and smell, in perhaps 30 years.

The seeds which are almond-like are toxic to some when eaten raw. When cooked they may be eaten safely. Europeans and Americans usually have little fancy for them but both the Japanese and Chinese eat them as an appetizer, or as a tasty ingredient added to certain dishes, or for after dinner munching as an aid to digestion. The Spirit And Sense Of Laws Should Control Folly, Greed

by WILLIAM McGILL

Before I see any of my friends on the zoning board of appeals or a number of others who might get excited, I want to make some statements on the headline for my Sept. 20 column.

Last week's headline (and I don't write the headlines, although I think whoever does usually shows interest and perception) held one glaring error: it referred to "hypocrisy of 'two-faced' Zoning Boards."

I doubt that this was quite borne out in the text. Members of Zoning Boards are almost invariably hard-working, conscientious men concerned for the favorable development of their communities.

If the heading had read, "two-faced zoning laws," I would have had nothing to add.

THE ROOT of the trouble is in the laws and the courts of Illinois.

It is the statute empowering municipalities to enact zoning laws which is responsible for the "hypocritical cant."

It is the rigidity of legal interpretation which makes it necessary for other property-owners to "prove" the negative, that any specific change should not take place.

To cite a case in point: not too far from our area an apparently objectionable re-zoning has been granted by the court despite the protests of neighbors and adverse opinions from local zoning boards.

One report that I hear is that a highly respected attorney declined to prosecute the appeal because he said, "There isn't a chance of winning the case."

IT'S RATHER HARD to imagine to what degree a drive-in theater will contribute to "public health, safety, morals or welfare," it might have an adverse effect; it might have no effect whatever.

But in the judgment of the court, according to the statute regarding zoning, it is approved in order "to contribute to the promotion of public health, safety, morals and welfare."

Legislative bodies tend to pass some high-sounding laws which give certain responsibilities to local bodies or other governmental agencies to "protect" the individual or local jurisdiction.

But if the courts refuse to interpret the sense of the law, or refuse to recognize the spirit of it, individuals and societies cannot be protected—not from their own folly or greed, nor from the folly or greed of their neighbor.

THIS, BY THE WAY, is the crux of the schools' legal battle on whether it is possible to require money for educational or building purposes from subdividers.

Has the community any right to protcet the educational opportunity of children presently living in a district, or about to live in a district which presumably has a good school system—before it is overcrowded.

'Clothes Horse' Crawford Ducks Typewriter In Film

by ERICA FLOYD

"Autumn Leaves" is what the trade calls a "woman's picture."

It casts venerable Joan Crawford as a lonely typist headed for the autumnal years. She meets young, handsome and charming Cliff Robertson. He falls in love with Joan but she fends him off because of the age difference. Joan is pictured as being somewhere between 35 and 50; Cliff would check in at about 29.

BUT CLIFF wants her and they marry. Then it turns out Cliff's a pyscho; went off his rocker when he thought his father and his first wife were too interested in each other.

But Joan sticks by him. This is hard because Cliff completely loses his rudder, pitches a typewriter at Joan. This is a piece of misguided critiicsm if I ever saw it because he should have thrown it at the screen writers who got him in his stew. He babbles incoherently, which enables the same writers to fill in a lot of dialogue with grunts and groans.

All ends well, of course, in a parting scene which is about as civilized as a tiger fight in Brookfield Zoo—and much less acceptable dramatically.

However, no one goes to see Joan Crawford to see acting and I am happy to report that her wardrobe is incredibly good for a girl who takes in typing.

THIS COLUMN, by the way, will be absent from this page for a few weeks. Lifting a page from the practice books of our professional Chicago critics, I'm going to New York to see some plays—and, I hope, write about them.

See you then.

Viewing The News

'Free Press' Meaningless Unless Courage Exercised

The week of Oct. 1 to Oct. 8 has been set aside as "Newspaper Week" by the daily and weekly newspapers of this country. A lot of wordy oratory will stem from the scores of meetings to be held throughout this USA as to what constitutes a "newspaper" and what makes it "free."

A good bit of this stuff will be flub-dub. A good bit of it will be the honest but peculiar ideologies of publishers gathered and crystallized in a lifetime of hitting the beat for ads and news, sometimes in vain.

Since newspapers are of the stuff that life is made of and since the things called "people" own and operate things called "newspapers," the product is going to be very much like an autobiography of human existence from one end to the other.

A newspaper can never be better or worse than the people it serves. After all the community and its activities are the life substance of news. They make the news, not the editor.

Constitution and laws enable the newspaper to operate in an atmosphere of freedom. They protect the newspaper from designing individuals and minorities, yes and even majorities, who would use the banner of "freedom" to expugn from the halls of democracy all those who will not agree with them or bow to their wishes.

In the protection of "free speech" and a "free press" our constitution and laws, fortified by supreme court decisions, stand between tyranny and the individual in the world today.

The right to speak, the right to print the truth, the facts, although there may be a marked difference as to meaning and interpretations, grows more precious by the hour.

When you and I stand up for a free press and free speech in this country, we help guarantee a safe future for ourselves and our children.

If Americans become so apathetic that they ignore the rights of their fellow Americans in this regard, they have set their signatures to their own death warrants.

Our type of society cannot survive and progress in the absence of the free expression of opinion.

In the sense of the free expression of opinion, the newspaper, as are other mediums of expression, is an integral part of our present and our future.

But all the constitutional and legal protection in the world, and all the great historical precedents can not guarantee the free expression of opinion. That can be safeguarded only by its fearless exercise.

He who would save freedom of speech must not be afraid to speak out. He who would preserve freedom of the press must not hesitate to print the truth. And all the rest who want this freedom for themselves, must defend others in this exercise, even if they disagree with what is being said or what is being printed.

By denying this freedom to a few, all may lose it. By guaranteeing it to all, all may continue to enjoy it.

Excesses there may well be, human nature being as it is, but the good judgment, intelligence, and democratic common sense of the average American is sturdy stuff and refuses to be taken in either by slick money changers or the peddlers of smooth political nostrums.

The principle of "free speech and free press" is based on the historic good sense of the American people. If we have a tradition, it's that of keeping our feet on the ground, even if our heads wander in the clouds occasionally.

The press can't be free, unless it is free to serve its community in the sense of a whole group of integrated activities.

Many Thanks

Thank you very much for publicizing the annual Child Welfare festival of the Lutheran Child Welfare association at Addison.

The festival, held September 9 at Addison, was a huge success. By an actual count, we had an attendance of well above 11,000 people. More than 10,000 baloons were released, returns coming back from West Virginia, eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee.

Thanks for helping in making the '56 festival a success.

Extreme Statement

This is a reply to last thursday's "Mailman's Corner" entitled, "School Failing to Teach Morals".

The author's evident generalization that learned "pedegogs" insist that if a child is taught what is right and good through education he will be morally right", is an extreme statement.

Statistically unsupported comments made in recent years by misinformed groups have antagonized and tended to create a hostile attitude between the home and the school.

Schools exist for children—it is the responsibility of each person to lessen the gap of misunderstanding which exists when the home and the school fail to substitute teamwork for dogmatic individualism.

LEARNING concerned with the principles of right conduct or moral standards, as other immaterial processes cannot be taught.

In order for children to learn what is morally accepted by our society (which is not the same for each individual) they must practice these principles in their everyday activities.

A child will not learn the meaning of democracy by pledging his allegiance to the flag each day, nor will he respect his fellow man the more, because a learned "pedegog" repetitiously tells his class it is the thing to do.

AN ARTICLE published in a periodical some years ago may help others to appreciate this learned "pedegog's" concern.

Dr. L. P. Jacks, inspecting a school, asked the master where in his time table he found time for teaching religion.

"We teach it all day long," the schoolmaster replied. "We teach it in geography by breadth of mind; we teach it in arithmetic by accuracy, and we teach it in history by humanity. We teach it in astronomy by reverence; and we teach it in the playground by fair play. We teach it by kindness to animals, by courtesy to servants and good manners to one another, and by helpfulness in all things."

"Learned Pedegog" (FP

Let Them Proceed

The new traffic law enforcement program launched by the sheriff is highly praiseworthy except for one point.

Your story about it last week indicated that sheriff's police are stopping cars containing minors to check for driver's licenses even when there is no apparent reason to suspect any illegal conduct. The rule-of-thumb is whether the car contains "two or more minors."

This certainly verges on the "unreasonable search and seizure" barred by the U.S. Constitution. It's a small matter in itself, but civil rights are maintained only by raising vigorous outcry at the first sign of infringement.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Infant Genius: Small Child Plus Highly Imaginative Parents

Dear Peg:

Definition of an infant genius: "A small child with highly imaginative parents" . . .

Patrick smiled and said "Hi" to me this morning! Of course, he's been smiling for a long time—since he was about 3 weeks old and "cooing" since he was 10 weeks old; it was the distinct "Hi" that so amazed and delighted me. After all, he's only 4 months and 1-week-old! Now, I can sense that you don't believe me, but when I peeked into his crib at 7 o'clock this morning and said "Hi," his face lighted up like a Christmas tree and the sound he made was identical in pitch and infection to my word "Hi." Perhaps one needs the well-trained ears of a mother to detect the beginning of speech in a baby; on the other hand, let's face it, we may just have a 4-month-old genius in the field of speech.

According to the authorities, a 4 "monther" weighs 13-14 pounds and is 24-25 inches long, so we think we have a big boy. Patrick is 27 inches long and weighs 16 pounds. He looks quite a bit like Bridget with blue eyes and brown hair (his Daddy's coloring too). He has now started to "entertain" himself for short periods at a time. I can often hear him, when I'm in another room and he's lying on top of our bed, gurgling and laughing out loud. If I peek in, I can see that he is fascinated with his hands, twining his fingers, then bringing his hands over his head, in front of his eyes and into his mouth. Once in a while he brings his feet up and stares at them and if he feels so inclined, he can [illegible] from his stomach to his back.

Bath time is his favorite [illegible]. Around 11:30, following his morning nap, we go into the kitchen, where I put him on a towel on one side of the sink. As soon as he hears the water running in, his little body stretches and relaxes and strains upward. He kicks his legs and his breathing becomes quick and excited. Obviously, he can hardly wait and when after being soaped I put him into the water for his "swim," he laughs and kicks the water vigorously (I have a little mopping up to do later, but it's worth it to see him have such a good time). A hearty lunch of strained egg yolk mixed into a green vegetable follows the bath, then into bed for his bottle for a two hour nap.

Taking advantage of this beautiful sunny weather we go out for a carriage ride as soon as Patrick wakes up and has his 2 ounces of orange juice. From 4 to 6 is his "party" time. He responds attentively to games, conversations and the activity going on around him. You're going to think it's awfully peculiar when I tell you where he sits during this fun period—propped up against a small pillow and snugly filling the girls' doll buggy! It all started when I let them push him around the apartment in it. I soon found that it was comfortable for him and convenient for me to move from room to room as I worked—he thoroughly enjoyed watching me and having me talk to him. Really, it's the best contraption since the papoose-pack.

Around 5:30 Patrick has a dinner of strained meat and vegetable topped off with a helping of baby fruit. About 6:30 he goes to bed to sleep until 5:30 a. m., when, hungry for his morning bottle, our little genius "calls" his mother—only the un-imaginative would call it "crying."

My love,
Patty.

Sunday Matinee 'Fantasia' Isn't The Answer To Elvis

by MARY

Every now and then I get imbued with the spirit of family living. It usually follows my reading one of those magazine articles that sets forth all the darling things that mama and papa can do with the young.

When it is in the article, it all sounds like such good clean fun. And, it is guaranteed to keep the children off the streets. Why I want to keep the girls off the streets when they aren't even on on them is anybody's guess.

But, I get concerned with their culture. Can't have a bunch of rowdies running around, can we? The book says that good music, good books and good food must be provided for the growing girl. So, the house is well peppered with pocket book size cartoons of Dennis the Menace. We had roast beef yesterday so it's meat pie today. Monday, a certain radio station is planning on playing Elvis Presley records for 12 hours straight.

WHAT MORE can a parent do? But, I felt that it wasn't quite enough so I decided to cart them off to see "Fantasia," which is a way of getting good music painlessly, I thought. Breathes there a mother with soul so dead, who never to herself has said let's go to the Sunday afternoon movie?

Don't do it. Check that impluse and settle for "The Cisco Kid". Every child in the United States goes to the Sunday matinee. Those too young to walk in under their own power are carted to the theater in their little prams, deposited in a seat and left while mother goes home to get a 25-cent nap. Cheap at half the price.

After standing in line for nigh onto a half an hour, I shepherded my brood to seats. From there on in, I tried to listen to the "Nutcracker Suite" punctuated by little kicks from behind donated by an embryonic Stokowski. The lad kept quite good time. I got sort of used to it and missed him on his frequent trips for popcorn and lemonade.

THERE were 2 little cherubs in front who were laboring under the delusion that they were at the ball game. At least, they cheered lustily at the good parts and booed all through "Night On Bald Mountain". The rest of the audience got its afternoon's constitutional by racing up and down the aisles calling cheerily to friends.

The next time we all go to the movie, it will be a midnight show and they can just jolly well sleep through the whole thing. I will have seen my duty (and the movie) and done it. (FP

Purrs Bank: Farmers Can Expect A Rise In Income

The nation's farmers can expect a rise in income over the next 12 months, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. Behind this improved outlook, the bank says lies a reduction in farm output and a continued "gentle" expansion of demand for agricultural products.

The demand for farm goods will rise mainly as a result of an increasing population and a pickup in disposable income per person.

Over the past 5 years, the U. S. population grew about 10 per cent, while average income after taxes was up even more.

But the key factor in the prospective income rise, the bank says, is the reduction in output which appears to be in the offing.

TOTAL CROP harvests this year are expected to be somewhat below 1955.

The number of acres harvested will show a small but significant decline according to preliminary estimates.

Feed grains—corn, oats, barley and sorghums—are reported to be down 9 million acres, only a part of which was offset by a 5 million acre rise in wheat and soybeans.

Although production of milk and poultry products may exceed year-earlier quantities, output of meat animals will be lower than in the last 6 months of 1955 due largely to reduced supplies of hogs.

Such curtailment in crop and livestock production would reduce aggregate farm output more than 1 per cent under a year ago, the first dip in six years.

And since prices usually rise faster than marketings decline, farm income should get a boost from this supply cutback.

MIDWEST FARMERS have far-Acreage was undoubtedly cut even more than this, the bank says, due to extensive farmer participation in the soil bank program.

In addition, yields per acre will be lower than last year for a number of crops because of bad weather. Thus, total crop production in 1956 may dip more than 3 per cent below 1955.

LIVESTOCK production also figures importantly in the present supply-income picture.

According to the bank, after 8 years of steady uptrend, the output of livestock products is leveling off.

Yet, the 2 broad areas which made up Midwest agriculture, the Corn Belt and Dairy Belt, exhibited dissimilar income patterns within that period.

In the Corn Belt states of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, net farm income dipped only 3 per cent from 1951 to 1954, whereas the drop amounted to 33 per cent in the Dairy Belt states of Michigan and Wisconsin.

But in 1955, the bank says, net income declined much more in corn than in dairy regions.

Corn Belt cash receipts dropped 11 per cent from 1954 to 1955 in contrast with a 2 per cent decline for dairy farmers.

During the current year, however, the rise in Corn Belt income should outpace the Dairy Belt increase.

Diseased Animal Lab Kept Busy

The number of diseased animals on which autopsies were performed increased during the past year at the diagnostic laboratory of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

The laboratory is operated in cooperation with the state department of agriculture.

THE ANNUAL report of the laboratory shows that autopsies were performed on 211 cattle, up 24 per cent from the previous year; on 155 sheep, up 61 per cent; on 1,013 swine, up 35 per cent; and on 2,591 birds, mostly chickens and turkeys, down 33 per cent.

Animal disease specimens are referred to the laboratory by Illinois veterinarians. Reports of diagnoses are sent to them, and they then inform the owners of the findings.

In addition to poultry and animals on which autopsies are performed, the laboratory examines specimens collected by veterinarians in the farm livestock disease problems.

THESE SPECIMENS, such as blood or tissue samples, may be examined for bacteria, virus and chemicals. Samples of tissues may be examined microscopically for telltale signs that characterize many diseases.

The diagnostic laboratory tests and leptospirosis in cattle and swine and for pullorum disease in poultry.

The number of specimens submitted to the laboratory for the past fiscal year totaled 106,017, an increase of 22 per cent over the previous year.

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

There will be quite a considerable amount of moist corn in the country this year. The early frost caught some of the corn immature. How will cattle do when fed moist corn? Here is what G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois, college of agriculture has to say:

Cattle wil l gain at least as well on moist corn as on dry corn. The big disadvantage of picking high-moisture corn is that you can't self-feed it.

You'll have to keep high-moisture corn in air-tight storage until you feed it.

AT A RECENT experiment at the Indiana experiment station high-moisture corn picking was renewed. Corn picked at 32 per cent moisture content in that test and stored in an air-tight silo put faster and cheaper gains on cattle than corn picked at 17 per cent moisture and stored in a regular crib.

The Indiana researchers figured that 12 to 15 per cent less dry matter produced a pound of gain in the high-moisture corn than in dry corn.

Earlier work at the South Dakota experiment station doesn't agree with the Indiana experiment, however, Carlisle points out. South Dakota experimenters found the dry matter in soft corn about equal, pound for pound, to that in dry corn.

THE FOURTH International Dairy show will be held in the International Amphitheatre October 6-13. Anyone will find it interesting to spend sometime at the show. You will see some of the finest dairy cattle in the world on display here.

Preliminary reports of entries indicate record listings in all 6 breeds that are featured, at this show.

Canadian participation is double any past year, and the total number is expected to exceed 2,000 head of the continent's finest dairy animal.

There will be at least 2 exhibitors from Cook county there. Mrs. Gertrude McNaught, owner of Rolling Acres farm in Hanover township, will have 18 purebred Guernsey cattle there. Mrs. McNaught exhibited the grand champion Guernsey cow at the show last year.

E. B. Henslee, owner of Henselee farms at Arlington Heights, is exhibiting a show herd of purebred Guernsey. They include top prize winners at recent midwest fairs.

GI Farm Training Practical

The Veterans Administration pointed out this week that GI farm training is a combination of classroom instruction plus supervised training on the farm, where the veteran can put into practice what he has been learning.

Robert D. Beer, VA's regional manager in Illinois, explained that important requirements include that the farm must be large enough so that, together with the classroom portion of his course, it will take up the full-time of the veteran-farmer; also, it must be large and varied enough for him to put into practice the farm operation and management techniques he is taught; and it must assure him a satisfactory livelihood, at least by the end of his program.

BEER emphasized that the veteran must have full control of the farm so that he will have a free hand in carrying out the farming methods he learns. The veteran may own the farm outright, or lease it, or have a management agreement, or some other tenure arrangement.

Eligible veterans may apply for GI farm training at any VA office.

There are approximately 4,000 veteran-farmers in training in Illinois.

'Farm Groups Smokescreen The Farm Problems' — Benson

Various agricultural groups "have built a smokescreen of fallacies around farm policy problems," says Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson in his forthcoming book, "Farmers at the Crossroads."

One fallacy, he says, is that the high farm incomes of the 1940's were due to high price supports. "The truth is that the insatiable demands of war and wartime inflation resulted in high prices for everything farmers could produce. No one has a right to claim credit for those high wartime prices unless he is willing to claim credit for the war and its misery and bloodshed."

AND SECOND "and even more serious fallacy," he continues, "is that high price supports can hold up farm income even though surpluses accumulate. Actually, in every year but one, from 1947 through 1955, farm income declined, and in all these years—until mid 1955—high, rigid price supports were on the statute books and completely in effect."

Benson declares that the government is concerned with promoting prosperity among farmers as well as in all segments of the economy, but that the farmer himself is in the best position to assure his own prosperity.

The free market, not government purchases, will provide the solution, says Benson.

The Secretary of Agriculture points out that the cotton farmers are in a critical situation and are losing the world export market to Southern Rhodesia whereas the soybean farmers are enjoying high prosperity. He notes that the cotton farmers have stayed with rigid price supports but that the soybean farmers have preferred a free market and no supports.

Changes In Social Security Affects 400,000 Farmers

There appears to be a close relation between election years and changes in social security laws. Mr. Townsend must feel a bit sheepish now about having asked for $100 a month. Social security offers twice that amount and includes more people. The changes made this year may add another 400,000 farmers to the rolls with more benefits for everyone.

Farm people should keep in mind 3 important changes for 1956:

1. Farm rental income can count toward social security if the land owner helps with the farm work or if he or she shares in management decisions. The intent of the law is that there must be a substantial contribution, and each case is supposed to be determined on its own facts.

2. Low-income farmers may report two-thirds of gross income if it is under $1,800, and may report $1,200 if gross is over $1,800 but net is less tan $1,200. This is an increase over the old 50 per cent and $900 rule.

3. RETIRED working women (could include retired farm lady landlords) and wives of retired farm workers may take reduced social security payment starting at age 62. Widows may take full benefits at age 62.

For 1957 there also are 3 important changes for farm people:

1. Rates go up 3⅜ per cent for self-employed and 2¼ per cent each for employer and employee. Pay new rates in 1958 on 1957 income.

2. Agricultural workers are covered when they earn $150 or work at least 20 days during the year for cash wages for one employer.

3. Disability payments may begin at age 50 (effective July 1957) if the farmer can no longer operate his farm, is currently and fully insured and has 20 quarters of coverage out of the last 40. There are more rules on disability, and it would be best to check with your socal security office if you think you are eligible.

Enter 4-H Records In Competition

by CHARLES V. FORT
Assistant Farm Adviser

Now that the growing season is over and 4-H work has been finished for another year we look over our record and evaluate our work for 1956.

The 4-H records have been turned into the state staff for recognition and selection in national competition. For the most part, we are interested at the county level in getting each 4-H member to fill his record book with valuable information.

In 4-H work, the weakest spot is 4-H record book completion. At the district and state level, the record is graded in about 5 minutes. The committees have a point scale of 100 points. Each book is evaluated and if it falls down in 2 or 3 places, recognition for the individual is lost.

IN GOING over a record book, here are points the committee looks for: Age of the youngster in accordance to projects carried —

A First year boy or girl should not be considered for state honors unless he or she is 15 or more and is carrying at least 3 projects. The selected 4-H'er goes along slowly with increased project size for each year in 4-H club work.

Size of farm plus number of brothers or sisters — Much is taken into consideration on the volume of project in accordance with the question. Is it practical? Can the family afford the 4-H'ers projects?

THE FEED inventory, expense and show records are checked, but the last part of the book sells the 4-Her in selection for an honor. The topics "Progress Towards a Goal, Use of Approved Practices, Quality, 4-H Club Activities, Service Activities and Photograph" are the basis for selection. These must be filled out completely. The average 4-H'er usually lacks knowledge for this part and slacks-off in completing it.

Last but not least the selection is based finally on the 5 questions at the end of the book, "Does this project meet the minimum requirements? Is this a complete book? Did you give a talk or demonstration at a meeting of the local club? Did you exhibit or have project inspected by an approved person? Did you attend two-thirds or more of the meetings held by your club after enrolling?" The most important of the 5 is the question on giving a talk or demonstration.

The goal in selection is, I think, finding the boy or girl in 4-H who leads in activities in his or her club, church and his or her community. They are the future, so lead and train them well.

Acreage Reserve Is Open To 'Old' Wheat Growers

Any producer who has a regular wheat acreage allotment may take part in the Soil Bank's acreage reserve program for the 1957 winter wheat crop, Carl M Bormet, chairman of the county agricultura, stabilization and conservation committee, said today.

Producers on farms which receive an allotment as a "new farm" for the 1957 wheat crop, however are not eligible for participation in the 1957 acreage reserve program

PAYMENTS under the program will be made for reducing the acreage of winter wheat below the amount of the allotment designating in a written agreement a specified part of the allotment acreage as acreage to be reserved" from production Land so designated may not be cropped or grazed during 1957.

The rate of payment for wheat acreage placed in the acreage reserve is $1.28 per bushel in Cook county. The amount of the payment will be based on the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the designated acreage whichever is smaller.

An acreage reserve agreement for the 1957 winter wheat crop must be signed by the farm operator, by October 5, 1956. Other interested producers who have some control of the acreage reserve land or who are to receive compensation under the agreement must also sign up to a somewhat later date.

CHAIRMAN BORMET explained that farmers may designate as much as 50 per cent of their allotment or 50 acres whichever is larger, for inclusion in the wheat acreage reserve.

However, the wheat acreage designated for the acreage reserve may not exceed the wheat allotment. The minimum acreage which the farmer may designate for the acreage reserve is 3 acres or the wheat allotment, whichever is smaller.

Interested farmers may sign up at the ASC Office, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

Forest Trees Are Available From State Nurseries

Farmers who wish to plant forest trees on poor areas of their farms can reserve seedlings and transplants now from the state nurseries.

Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser, says that farmers and other rural landowners may use these trees to establish a forest stand to grow forest crops, control soil erosion, develop wildlife cover or start a field shelterbelt for wind portection.

STATE NURSERY trees are produced at the Union County Nursery, near Johnesboro, and at the Mason County Nursery, east of Havana.

Mees warns that use of trees from the state source for shade, landscaping or farmstead windbreaks is forbidden. You can get trees for such purposes from commercial nurseries.

Among the conifers or evergreens available this year are jack pine, loblolly pine, red pine, Scotch pine, shortleaf pine, white pine, bald cypress and red cedar. The nurseries also offer eight broadleaved or hardwood species, ash, black locust, black walnutseed, osage orange or "hedge," red gum, soft maple, sycamore and tulip poplar. The multiflors rose, a shrub, is also available.

Check Finish Before Buying All-Weather Coat

If you're buying an all-weather coat, be sure you find out whether the fabric has been treated with a water-repellent finish, advises Mrs. Ruth L. Galbraith, University of Illinois textiles and clothing instructor.

And there's 1 more step: Be sure the coat has a durable water-repellent finish if you want it to look the same before and after cleaning.

Mrs. Galbraith says a research study shows that the non-durable type of finish is removed by both dry cleaning and wet cleaning. Durable-type finishes aren't removed by either method.

HOWEVER, this doesn't mean that all fabrics treated with a durable water-repellent finish will still repel water satisfactorily after dry cleaning. The cleaning process may not remove the finish, but it does make it less effective after cleaning than it was before. However, dry cleaners can apply a water repellent to make the finish again "durable."

Entering the International quarter horse show, held in conjunction with the dairy show and the "Golden Spurs" rodeo, Mel Sherman, Des Plaines and Bob Danits, Des Plaines.

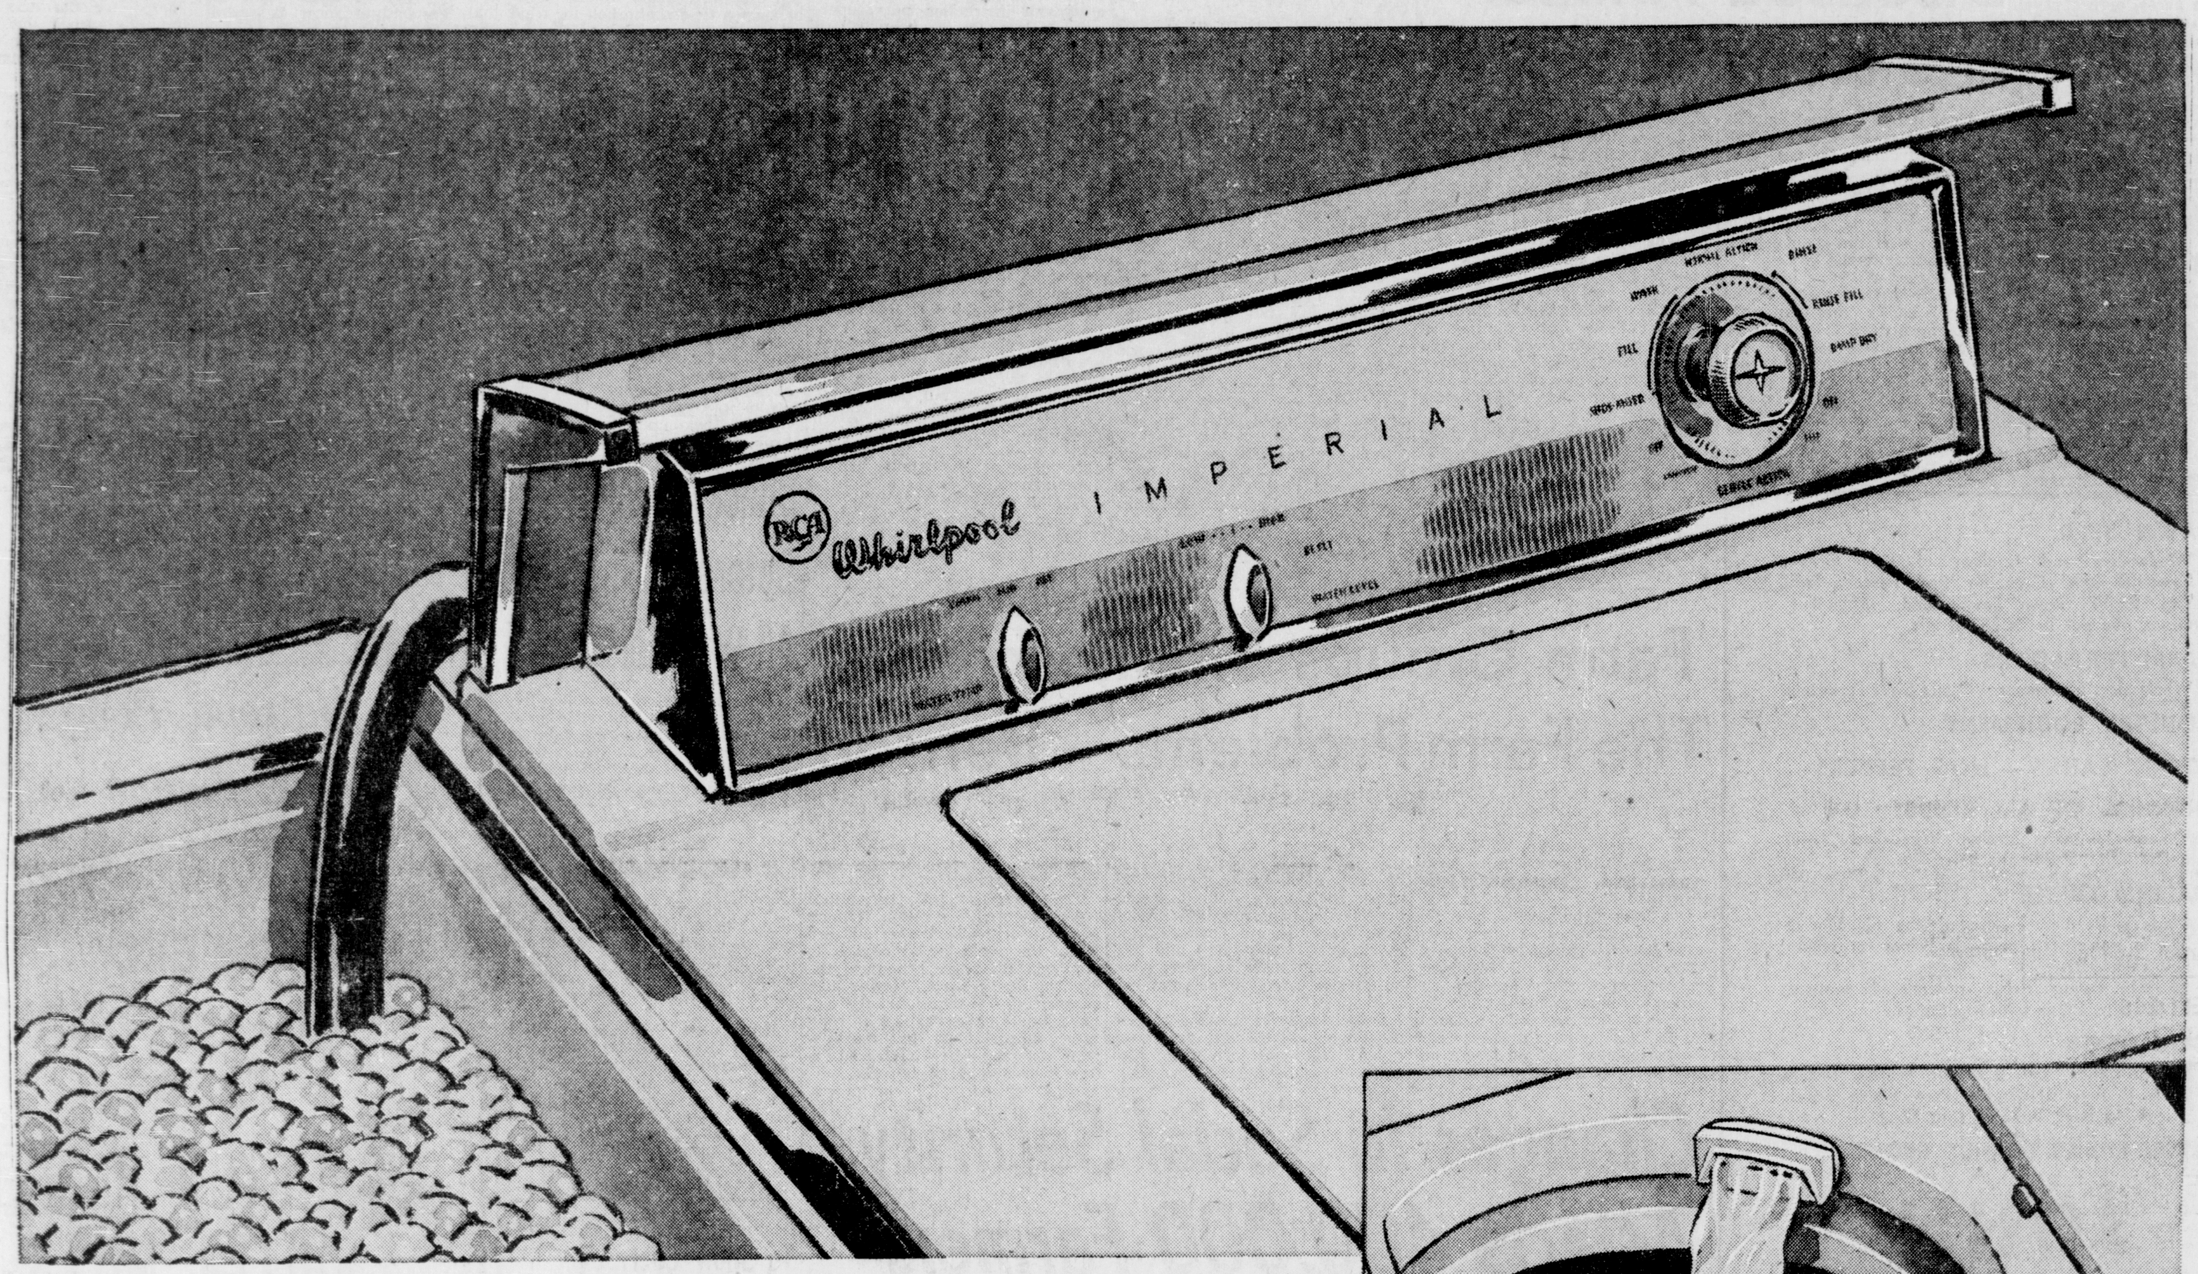
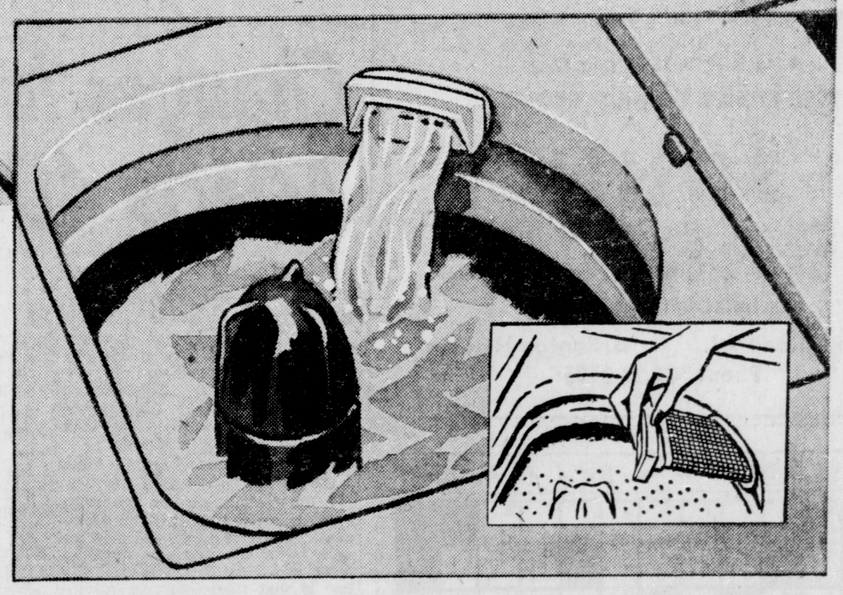
New 1957 RCA WHIRLPOOL filters out lint and saves suds





Exclusive, automatic Suds-Miser® saves more than half the cost of soap and hot water

Ever run out of soap in the middle of a wash? Ever have to wait for more hot water? Or (even worse) have to save and use dirty water to get the last load done?

Then this new RCA WHIRLPOOL with the famous, exclusive Suds-Miser will save you money and time!

For Suds-Miser lets you re-use hot, sudsy, filtered water over and over, safely! It pumps wash water into a storage tub while you rinse. When you're ready, Suds-Miser pumps it back—and filters it again.

You can do 4 or 5 loads with the same water. You save the cost of the water, the cost of heating and softening that water, the cost of all that soap. Up to 26 boxes of soap, 2500 gallons of water each year!

But that's just the Suds-Miser—what about the washer? For a start, just look at the feature list at the right!

And of course, you know an RCA WHIRLPOOL gets clothes cleaner—that's been a fact almost as long as you can remember. See this newest, and finest, RCA WHIRLPOOL Imperial this week!

There's just one automatic washer with everything...

Clean Chimneys Once A Year, Advise Experts

It's a good idea to inspect your chimney at least once a year for soot accumulations and flashing failure and to check the mortar joints to see whether they need reopening.

One good way to check the chimney for leaking joints is to use the smoke test, says D. G. Jedele, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois.

FOR THIS TEST, build a fire of paper, straw, wood or tar paper at the base of the flue—probably in the clean-out pit is best, Jedele says. When the fire is smoking well, cover the chimney top with a wet blanket or wet feed sacks. Any leaks will show up plainly.

If you find an accumulation of soot in the chimney, the best way to clean it out is to hire a furnace cleaning company with modern suction equipment. But you can do the job yourself by using a weighted sack filled with straw and attached to a rope.

Most chemical chimney cleaning compounds are dangerous to use, the agricultural engineer points out. They produce a high temperature to burn out the soot, and using too much compound may produce an explosion or an uncontrollable fire.

GAS FURNACES can form soot if the burner is not properly adjusted to burn clean. Coal or wood-burning furnaces, however, are more likely to soot up the chimney.

Damp spots on the ceilings or walls near a chimney may show that rainwater is leaking around the flashing or through a leak in the chimney wall. Sometimes a hood over the chimney top will help to keep rain out if you can't find the leak. (Fm

Apple Recipes Tempting To Illinois Cooks

A combination of fragrant apples and flavorful recipes is tempting Illinois cooks again.

But which varieties make prize-winning pies, which lend themselves best to salads, which are tops for out-of-hand eating and which taste best baked?

Mrs. Dorothy McIvor, University of Illinois foods specialist, says that Golden Delicious apples are a good all-round variety. You can use them to make tantalizing pies, sauces, or salads, eat them raw or bake them.

OTHER APPLES recommended for pie and sauce are Jonathan, Stayman and Cortland. For salads and eating raw, these 3 varieties lead popularity lists.

When you bake apples, you'll probably have best results with Stayman, Rome Beauty and Winesap. (Fm
